NEBRASKA CITY BANK ROBBED $6,000

Mayor Says Organized Crime In Chicago Largely Ended

FOUR MACHINE GUN BANDITS FLEE WITH LOOT

Four Heavily Armed Men Ransack Merchants National Bank Tuesday Noon — Three Men in Institution All Taken as Hostages But Released Near City — Bandits Thought Heading For Lincoln.

(Special to The Star.)

NEBRASKA CITY, Oct. 24—Four armed men held up the Merchants National bank here at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday noon, kidnaped two employes and a customer, and escaped with loot estimated at about $6,000.

Two of the men taken by the bandits as hostages were released at the city limits while the third was turned loose four miles northwest of town. Dropped at the city limits were Elmo Shuey, 28, bank clerk, and Dr. J. P. Gilligan of Nebraska City, both of whom had been forced to stand on the running board during the trip through town as a living shield for the bandits in case of an attack. The man carried into the country was William G. Eisenmann, 45, assistant cashier of the bank.

Authorities in all nearby towns were notified. Shortly before 2 o'clock the bandit car was reported seen to stop at a road sign near Union and then to continue west in the direction of Lincoln. A later report said the car was sighted at Eagle, heading for the O street entrance to Lincoln. Officers were posted on all highways east of that city.

Sheriff Carl Ryder fixed the estimate of the loot at the $6,000 figure. Officials of the bank said no accurate figure could be made until a full check-up was made.

Forced to Open Safe.

Two of the men, carrying guns, entered the bank and executed the actual looting of the cash till and the safe which Eisenmann was forced to open. A third man, who appeared to be the ring leader, stood at the entrance to the bank with a sub machine gun, which he kept partially hidden under his overcoat. A fourth bandit remained in the car, the motor of which was shut off during the robbery.

The two men who entered the bank appeared to be extremely nervous, according to Shuey, but the leader at the door was cool and collected. Shuey said the driver of the car also seemed to be highly nervous. When Eisenmann was released, the robbers tossed him a loaded gun picked up in the bank.

"You might need it," one gunman is reported to have laughed as he threw the weapon to the banker.

The car used by the bandits was a 1933 coach with an Omaha license. In leaving the bank, the bandits proceeded slowly to highway 75 west of Nebraska City and then tnurned north in the direction of Omaha.

Shuey Depicts Holdup.

Elmo Shuey, clerk in the bank who with Dr. Gilligan was carried by the bandits on the car's running board as a protective shield to the western edge of town, told a graphic story of the robbery immediately upon his return to the bank. Shuey estimated the loot as "considerably less than $10,000" but said it would be impossible to give an accurate figure without a check-up.

Shuey and Eisenmann were the only employes in the bank when the robbery occurred at 12:25 o'clock. and Dr. Gilligan was the only customer present. James T. Shewell, bank president and H. W. Montgomery, an assistant cashier, were out at lunch.

"I looked up to see a young fellow about 24 years old pointing a gun at me after I heard a voice say. 'Don't move and don't give any warning,'" Shuey related. At the same time I saw a bigger man, about 40 years old, holding a gun on Dr. Gilligan and Billy up near the front of the bank. Another big man stood just inside the entrance of the bank, partially concealing a submachine gun under his overcoat."

Machine Gunner Leader.

The two men who came back into the bank were highly nervous, the bank clerk stated, while the machine gunner at the door maintained a cool, collected manner at all times. Shuey said the man at the door, whom he said was also about 40 years old, appeared to be the ring leader and frequently gave orders to the other two men.

"The younger fellow tried to enter the cash offices by a door near me.

Lincoln Police Cars Join Bandit Search

All available Lincoln city police and county sheriff cars were patrolling entrances to Lincoln Tuesday afternoon on the lookout for the bandits who robbed the Merchants National bank at Nebraska City.

KGZU, police radio station, was directing the work, and also broadcast suggestions to officers of other counties in spreading a net to apprehend the gunmen.

State Sheriff Michael Endres notified all sheriffs of surrounding counties and at the request of officials of the Nebraska Bankers association sent Walter Schroeder, state fingerprint expert, to Nebraska City in search of clues.

Chief of Police William Condit, at the request of Sheriff Carl Ryder, sent Officer Volcott Condit to Nebraska City also in search of fingerprint clues.

Bank Robbers Get $2,500 In Indiana

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 24—(AP)—Four armed men today held up the Western State bank here and escaped with $1,500 n cash and $1,000 in Liberty bonds. They fled in a large black sedan.

The robbers, working methodically, forced Henry Niemic, cashier, and a customer to lie on the floor while they scooped up the cash and bonds into a satchel.

Dakota Bank Robbed.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 24—(AP)—Burglars obtained an undetermined amount of loot from the First State Bank at Sinai last night, the South Dakota Bankers' association was notified today.

The burglars entered the bank during the night and cut a hole in the safe.

Farm Administration Studying Codes For Foodstuffs Dealers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24— (AP) — Officials of the agricultural adjustment administration today were reported pushing consideration of the code for retail grocers, with indications that in conformance with the policy laid down by President Roosevelt, it would ban sales below cost.

By executive order several months ago, Mr. Roosevelt designated the farm administration to pass upon codes for dealers in foodstuffs, with the NRA considering the wage and hour provisions of these codes.

With the general retail code now approved by the president, officials expected to have the grocery charter ready for his signature soon.

Late Rally Sends Stock Prices Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 24— AP)— Stocks swung into a lively rally late in today's market as the dollar depreciated severely against the European gold currencies. Gains of $1 to more than $4 were the rule for leading shares, though several issues, chiefly mining shares, showed larger gains.

Wall street appeared to have decided after considerable hesitation that the president's new plan for buying and selling gold as a means of price control had inflationary aspects and there was a scramble to buy "equities." Commodities were less buoyant, wheat losing 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel net.

SENATE PROBERS DIG INTO CHASE LOANS IN CUBA

State Department Under Hoover Knew of Machado Misuse of Fund.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — (AP) — Evidence that the state department in the Hoover administration knew of improper use by former President Machado of Cuba of $9,000,000 from a $12,000,000 trust fund was recorded today in the senate investigation.

A letter from the files of the Chase National bank disclosed the now deposed president was $9,000,000 short in the fund in 1931.

The letter, from one Chase official to another, said the matter was "worrying the president and our own state department."

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, read the letter into the record, but did not immediately go into the trust fund affair.

Son-in-Law "Useless."

The same letter reported that Machado's son-inlaw, who was employed by the Chase bank in Havana, was "useless from a business standpoint, but recommended his retention because otherwise Machado would have to give him an allowance.

Large loans to Machado and his companies, some of which were still outstanding at the time, were disclosed by the letter.

The incident was thrown into a mass of data showing personal loans during the period when it was obtaining huge financing contracts from the island republic.

$200,000 Paid Lawyers.

The evidence also dealt with total fees of more than $320,000 paid by the bank, in connection with the financing, to lawyers in the United State and Cuba.

A previous senate inquiry disclosed that Machado's son-in-law, who was employed during most of the Chase financing in Cuba, was paid a salary ranging from $12,000 to $19,000 a year.

Keenan Appointed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Joseph B. Keenan of Cleveland was appointed an assistant attorney general by President Roosevelt today to succeed Pat Malloy of Oklahoma, who resigned several weeks ago.

Keenan has been a special attorney for the bureau of investigation in charge of criminal prosecutions. He has concentrated on kidnapings and helped to prosecute Machine Gun Kelly and others involved in the Urschel kidnaping at Oklahoma City.

CLAIM SHARKEY ONE OF BANDITS

Enders Reports Touhy Member Identified in Grand Island Robbery.

William Sharkey, under arrest at St. Paul, Minn., along with three other members of the Roger Touhy gang, in connection with kidnaping activities, was identified by witnesses as one of the bandits who held up the Nebraska National bank of Grand Island a year ago, State Sheriff Michael Endres announced Tuesday morning.

Deputy State Sheriff Otto Dudschus, who took witnesses of the robbery to St. Paul to view Roger Touhy and three of his henchmen, informed Endres that Sharkey was the only one of the quartet to be identified.

The witnesses taken to St. Paul were Lidia Dietz and Verona Jorgensen, stenographers in the bank who were forced to ride with the escaping bandits, and Detlef Moves and George Armstrong, also employes of the bank.

GORCH'S ARREST BRINGS CLUE IN LINDBERGH CASE

Officer Makes Guarded Admission After Prisoner Quizzed

BOSTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Lieut. James Finn of the New York police department today said that information gained from John Gorch provided a clue to the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby.

After a conference which followed the questioning of Gorch and which was participated in by Boston police officials and Corp. William F. Horn of the New Jersey state police, Finn said:

"Gorch provided us with names and addresses in New York. These will have to be checked up. What they will prove to be I can't say now."

Asked if the information gained from Gorch was of "real importance," Finn said, "I wouldn't want to put it as strong as that, but it is a clue. I wouldn't want to go any stronger because to do so would frustrate any plans for the future."

Finn said that samples of Gorch's handwriting had been taken to compare them with the handwriting on the Lindbergh ransom notes.

Nebraska Insurance Situation Greatly Improved—Herdman

State Insurance Director Lee Herdman finds the insurance situation in Nebraska vastly improved in the last six months and he feels that operating companies no longer face any danger of raids on their cash reserves.

The moratorium, he said, permitted them to accumulate substantial additional cash through premium collections while the demand for cash loans and surrender values from policy holders has shown a distinct decline.

FARMER STRIKE IS DEPRECATED

Grain Dealer Official Says Is Dangerous Expedient.

OMAHA, Oct. 24—(AP)—Secretary J. N. Campbell of the Nebraska Grain Dealers' association, which opened its fifth annual convention here today, said his group is "in full sympathy with raising farm prices to a level comparable with the prices of the things that farmers have to buy," but he called the farm strike "a dangerous and unwise expedient."

"A farm strike," he asserted, "will decrease consumption, disrupt and demoralize marketing processes and destroy the business confidence so necessary to the free play of trading activity which enhances prices."

H. E. Day of North Platte, president of the association, said he believes the farm strike served the purpose of calling the attention of the president to the farmer's plight, just as Keith Neville's resignation from the state NRA board had the effect of changing the operation of the recovery code in the smaller communities.

"But the trouble is," added Day, "the strike may be carried too far. The danger lies in the radical element that we often find at the lead in such movements. The farmers near North Platte are not racing in town to organize, but just send some paid leader there and some of the more radical farmers will join."

In his annual report, Mr. Campbell said he sees a much greater field for trade organizations, as a result of the NRA.

G. C. Crittenden of Lincoln is a director of the organization, which has 150 members.

Will Not Strike.

JULESBURG, Colo., Oct. 24—AP)—Northeastern Colorado and western Nebraska farmers, meeting here, decided not to join the national farm strike, it was announced by Earl Quinn, president of the Colorado Farmers' Holiday association. The farmers went on record as preferring to "follow the leadership of President Roosevelt, instead of Milo Reno, head of the National Farmers' Holiday association." Quinn said several hundred attended the meeting.

INFLATION TALK PERSISTS ON EVE OF GOLD BUYING

First Purchase of Yellow Metal Will Be Made Wednesday.

PRICE TO BE OVER THE WORLD LEVEL

Inflationists Preparing Resolution To Be Sent To White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — (AP) — The first purchase of newly mined gold under President Roosevelt's move toward a managed currency will be made tomorrow.

Jesse Jones, as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, Dean Acheson, as acting secretary of the treasury, and probably Henry Morgenthau, jr., representing the president, will meet at the treasury about 9:30 a. m.

Through the treasury's regular facilities, foreign gold quotations at that time will be received and the price and amount of the first federal purchase decided upon.

Roosevelt Confers.

President Roosevelt today conferred with the three officials who will participate in tomorrow's conference.

It was asserted later that the price of the purchase would be announced by 10 a. m., (E. S. T.).

It was said in high government quarters today that the price to be paid would be slightly above the world price level but officials refrained from giving any more definite indications of the amount to be paid.

It was intimated that some official of the reconstruction corporation other than Jones would later be designated to take charge of the gold transactions. His name, it was said, might be announced later in the day.

Inflation Talk Persists.

This was the last day for the treasury setting the price to be paid for gold on the world level. It was placed at $29.80 an ounce.

$100,000 MORE AID TO STATE

Additional Amount For October Granted By U. S. Officials.

One hundred thousand dollars asked for by the state emergency relief committee last week to meet requirements during the month of October has been granted by National Administrator Hopkins and a draft for that sum has been sent from Washington to the federal reserve branch at Omaha. It will be turned over to Governor Bryan and deposited by him in the First National bank of Lincoln, to be drawn against for county allotments and general expenses of the state relief organization.

It is understood also that the $300,000 requested for Nebraska to take care of relief needs over the state in November will also be forthcoming, though no official announcement to that effect has been made. The November money may be sent in installments.

After allotting a number of additional quotas to counties last week, the state relief organization had only $10,000 left on hand out of funds previously received from Washington.

The state relief committee at its last meeting approved an additional allowance of $25,000 to Douglas county and $10,000 to Lancaster for the rest of this month, conditional on further funds being obtained.

$22,724,000 FOR FEDERAL WORKS

Six Millions Alloted To Begin Canal in Imperial Valley.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24— (AP) — The public works administration today allotted $22,724,900 for federal construction in various parts of the country, including $6,000,000 with which to begin the all-American canal to supply water to the Imperial valley in California.

The cost of the all-American project is estimated at $27,000,000, approximately $12,000,000 less than the former project under consideration which called for a water supply to both the Imperial and Coachvelle valleys.

The initial development of the canal, to replace the present canal which runs partly through Mexican territory, will not include a power development, but this may be added later. The first development, however, will be purely to irrigate the present 500,000 acres of land in the Imperial valley and will not bring new land into cultivation. The money will be repaid by water users.

The allotments by the public works board today included one of $14,208,400 for 85 postal substations in Chicago, Boston, Brooklyn, New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

NRA CODES FOR BUILDING FIRMS ARE CONSIDERED

Propose Withholding of Pay Boosts as Inducement to Investors.

The main points of the retail code appear on Page 2 of this paper.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—NRA codes for the construction industries are at a stage where Administrator Hugh S. Johnson and President Roosevelt soon must rule on the proposal that wage boosts be withheld for a year as an inducement to investors.

This plan, formulated by economists and deputy administrators in charge of the "capital goods" industries, is based on the contention that a mandatory increase in wages one year hence and a second step-up later will tempt capital to come out of hiding immediately and start a mild rise in construction that will prevent a sudden boom later when demand is acute. Labor is bitterly opposed and expects to make itself heard at the white house.

Before the question is confronted definitely, Johnson is expected to announce his reorganization of NRA as a semi-permanent administrative unit subdivided under four deputies who will have charge of major industrial groups. Included also is a nationwide structure of enforcement offices to supervise operation of codes and obtain voluntary compliance from merchants and manufacturers violating their terms.

Task Made Easier.

This enforcement task was believed by officials to have been made immeasurably easier by NRA's retreat from the small towns in which are hundreds of thousands of miscellaneous trade establishments

EVREUX, France, Oct. 24—(AP—Twenty-two persons were killed and ten seriously injured today in a wreck of the Paris-Cherbourg express near Saint Elier, nine miles from here.

The slightly injured were rushed to Paris. Senator Dudouyt narrowly escaped drowning when the engine, the baggage car and three passenger coaches plunged off a viaduct over the Rouloir river. He was dragged from the wreckage uninjured.

BISHOP DRUMM OF IOWA DEAD

DES MOINES, Oct. 24—(AP)—Bishop Thomas W. Drumm, 62, head of the Des Moines diocese of the Catholic church, died today following an illness of about a month which developed from an attack of food poisoning.

Bishop Drumm was born in Fore Ireland, July 12, 1870, and came to the United States at the age of 18. He was graduated from St. Joseph's college at Dubuque in 1898 with a bachelor of arts degree, and then began his studies for the priesthood. He finished the prescribed course at the Grand seminary, Montreal, Canada, and was ordained a priest in 1901.

Bishop L. B. Kucera of the Lincoln diocese paid the following tribute to Bishop Drumm:

"In the death of Bishop Drumm the church throughout the middlewest suffers a distinct loss. His zeal for the common welfare of his fellowmen made of him a tireless missionary, a patriotic citizen and a true friend. In sympathy with Des Moines we mourn a distinguished leader and a fearless shepherd."

SENATE GROUP HEARS FACTOR'S KIDNAP STORY

Kelly Informs Racket Investigators Gangsters Are Lying Low as Result of United Action of Federal and Local Authorities—700 Windy City Murders From 1921 to 1932.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(AP)—George E. Q. Johnson, the former federal prosecutor who sent Al Capone to prison, told the U. S. senate's racket inquiry today intimidation of witnesses has been an almost insurmountable obstacle in prosecuting gangsters.

"Fear of witnesses causes most of the failures to convict gangsters and major felons," Johnson said. "It was about impossible to get anyone to testify against Capone."

"There were 700 murders in Chicago from 1921 to 1932, mostly atrocious killings by gangsters of victims who never had a chance. Some of them were prospective witnesses in criminal cases.

"That's the answer to fear of witnesses."

Mayor Edward J. Kelly told the hearing organized crime in Chicago had been largely ended by united action of federal and local authorities.

"We have no more hoodlums walking the streets with seven or eight bodyguards or riding in armored automobiles," Kelly said. "Constant work by the state's attorney, city, police and federal authorities has been the cause."

Favors 10 to 2 Verdict.

Johnson said he believed a verdict of 10 to 2, instead of unanimous, should be sufficient to convict in criminal cases. He said a mobile federal police force available to call at any place in the country would be of great value in providing technical aid to local police.

He said racketeering was largely a local crime, carefully organized so as to preclude any crossing of state lines, and therefore seldom subject to federal prosecution.

John J. Factor told the committee that only the federal government can halt kidnaping.

Factor spoke from experience. He

FARM PICKETS WITHDRAW FROM IOWA HIGHWAYS

Apparently Little Progress Made in Anti-Selling Movement.

The national farm strike made little apparent progress today.

Milo Reno, national leader of the Farmers Holiday asociation, returned to Des Moines from Kankakee, Ill., without comment.

All Iowa highways were clear at noon as pickets withdrew from James, near Sioux City, and Crescent and Oakland, near Omaha, in the face of a predicted cold wave.

First reports of violence came to Sioux City officers today from George C. Brown trucker. Pickets near Moville, 20 miles from Sioux City, struck him in the face about 12:30 a. m., when he was reluctant to turn back home with a load of livestock, Brown said.

NORRIS REQUEST CAUSE OF DELAY

Ickes Says Sutherland Project Is Being Held Up.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Ickes today said the Sutherland power and irrigation project in Nebraska is being held up because of Senator Norris' communication. Ickes said he interpreted it as calling for holding the Sutherland project up "for a reasonable time at least," until it could be studied with the Tri-county project with which Norris recommended that it be combined.

Commenting on complaints from Nebraska that projects are being unreasonably delayed, Ickes said he telegraphed Governor Bryan recently, urging speedier action by the state in undertaking highway projects for which money already had been allotted.

Ickes said there were no special problems regarding Nebraska applications to the public works administration which would cause delay, adding, however, that the Sutherland project was being held up. He made no mention of the Columbus power project, also being studied by the works administration.

As Rogers Sees It

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 24—Farmers are having a tough time, but they had no idea that they were so bad off till they joined an organization and had some paid leaders tell 'em how poor they were. If ever an industry was having a field day, its the industry of paid leaders in every line, who are explaining to their followers, "what the government owes to them."

I haven't seen a copy of the constitution in years (I guess they are out of print) but I don't remember in there anything about what it was to do if you raised too much, or if you manufactured too much, or if you went in debt too much, or if you drove your automobile too much, or if you bathed in one of your bathrooms too much. In fact, if I remember right we owed more to the constitution than it did to us.

Yours, WILL.

R. F. C. BANK AID TO BE SPEEDED

Roosevelt Sets Up New Group to Encourage Joining Guaranty.

Millions In New Capital To Help Thousands Of State Banks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Millions in new capital today were available to help thousands of state banks join the federal deposit insurance system which becomes effective in 1934

These non-members of the federal reserve system—numbering over 8,000—were urged by President Roosevelt to apply for admission to the deposit insurance fund.

To aid them in meeting requirements, Mr Roosevelt established yesterday within the reconstruction corporation a special division for "bank co-operation in recovery" to make recommendations "for purchase by RFC of preferred stock" He named Harvey Couch, RFC director, to head the division.

"We hope," the president said in a statement to his financial aides, "that all banks will take advantage of this opportunity to put themselves in an easy cash position to help in the work of recovery, x x x "We want them to be able to do their part and if they find use for more capital to do their part well and comfortably, we should do everything humanly possible to see that they get it. In other words, deposit insurances gives us the opportunity not only to protect depositors but to make more serviceable our whole banking system."

To serve with Couch, the president named Eugene Black, governor of the federal reserve board; Undersecretary Dean Acheson of the treasury; Lewis Douglas, budget director; J. F. T O'Connor, comptroller of the currency; Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the deposit insurance corporation; Henry Bruere, credit co-ordinator and Frank Walker, secretary of the executive council.

ADVERTISE NOW, HANEY ADVISES

Ads Great Hope to Revive Business, Speaker Tells Ad Club.

Stating that, "The only thing that comes to the man who waits is whiskers," J. W. Haney, Omaha, district mannager of the General Foods company, in addressing the Lincoln Ad club Monday evening at the Annex cafe, urged the members to launch into their advertising with more diligence.

"The opportunity is here as never before," he added, "if you will only produce the right copy, at the right time, with the right message, you can get the right results. This may provide a way out of the present situation, which is what the people are looking for."

Mr. Haney traced the general history of advertising, and stressed that the only types that he has ever known to fail were those containing dishonest copy.. "There has never been a time in merchandising business when advertising should be more carefully planned than now," he said, "and that on trictly honest principles."

Morris Adams announced that the week of November 5-12 is to be father and son week, a fact which should be noted in perparing advertising copy for that period.

Limitations Upon Price Increases.

No retailer shall increase the price of any merchandise sold after the effective date of this code over the price existing June 1, 1933, by more than is made necessary by the amount of increases in production, operating, replacement, and-or invoice costs of merchandise, and-or by taxes or other costs resulting from action taken pursuant to the national industrial recovery act since June 1, 1933, and in setting such price increases retailers shall give full weight to probable increases in sales volume.

Prior Contracts.

Where costs of executing contracts entered into before June 16, 1933, by any retailer for the purchase of goods at fixed prices for delivery during the duration of this code are increased by the application of the provisions of the nation industrial recovery act and-or the agricultural adjustment act, it is deemed equitable that appropriate adjustments of such contracts to reflect such increased costs actually incurred be arrived at by mutual agreement or arbitral proceedings or otherwise, and the national retail trade council is constituted an agency to assist.

Loss Limitation.

To prevent unfair competition against local merchants, the use of the socalled "loss leader" is hereby declared to be an unfair trade practice These 'loss leaders" are articles often sold below cost to the merchant for the purpose of attracting trade. This practice results, of course, either in efforts by the merchant to make up the loss by charging more than a reasonable profit for other articles, or else in driving the small merchant with little capital out of legitimate business. It works back against the producer of raw materials on farms and in industry and against the labor so employed.

This declaration against the use of "loss leaders" by the storekeeper does not prohibit him from selling an article without any profit to himself. But the selling price of articles to the consumer should include an allowance for actual wages of store labor, to be fixed and published from time to time by the trade authority hereinafter established.

Such an allowance for labor need not be included in the selling price of any article of food, or be applied by storekeepers doing business only in communities of less than 2,500 population which are not part of a larger trade area. Provided, however, that any retailer may sell any article of merchandise at a price as low as the price set by any competitor in his trade area on the merchandise which is identical or essentially the same, if such competitor's price is set in conformity with the foregoing provision. A retailer who thus reduces a price to meet a competitor's price as above defined shall not be deemed to have violated the provisions of this section if such retailer immediately notifies the nearest representative retail trade organization of such action and all facts pertinent thereto.

Trade Practices.

All retailers shall comply with the following trade practices

No retailer shall use advertising ,whether printed, radio or display or of any other nature, which is inaccurate in any material particular or misrepresents merchandise (including its use, trademark, grade, quality, quantity, size, origin, material, content, perparation or curative or therapeutic effect) or credit terms, values, policies or services, and no retailer shall use advertising and-or selling methods which tend to deceive or mislead the customer.

No retailer shall use advertising which refers inaccurately in any material particular to any competitor or his merchandise, prices, values, credit terms, policies or services.

No retailer shall use advertising which inaccurately lays claim to a policy or continuing practice of generally underselling competitors.

No retailer shall secretly give anything of value to the employe or agent of a customer for the purpose of influencing a sale, or in furtherance of a sale render a bill or statement of account to the employe, agent or customer which is inaccurate in any material particular.

No retailer shall place obstacles in the way of the purchase of a product which a consumer orders by brand name in reliance upon the consumer a substitute product in a manner which disparages the product ordered.

NRA Label.

No retailer shall purchase, sell or exchange any merchandise manufactured under a code of fair competition which requires such merchandise to bear an NRA label, unless said merchandise bears such label. Any retailer rightfully possessing the insignia of the NRA who has in stock or purchases similar merchandise which has been manufactured before the effective date of the code of fair competition requiring such merchandise to bear an NRA label may attach thereto the NRA insignia.

Prison Made Goods.

Pending the formulation of a compact or code between the several states of the United States to insure the manufacture and sale of prison made goods on a fair competitive basis with goods not so produced, the following provisions of this section will be stayed for ninety days, or further at the discretion of the administrator:

A. Where any penal, reformatory or correctional institution, either by subscribing to the code or compact hereinbefore referred to, or by a binding agreement of any other nature, satisfies the administrator that merchandise produced in such institution or by the inmates thereof will not be sold except upon a fair competitive basis with similar merchandise not so produced, the provisions of paragraph B hereof shall not apply to any merchandise produced in such manner in thei nstitutions covered by such agreement.

B. Except as provided in the foregoing paragraph, no retailer shall knowingly buy or contract to buy any merchandise produced in whole or in part in a penal, reformatory or correctional institution. After May 31, 1934, no retailer shall knowingly sell or offer for such merchandise. Nothing in this section, however, shall affect contracts, which the retailer does not have the option to cancel, made with respect to such merchandise before the approval of this code by the president of the United States.

The retail trade authority shall consist of the administrator or his deputy, and three members appointed by the president of the United States, who shall advise and assist the administrator or his deputy. Members of the retail trade authority shall be members, without vote, of the national retail trade council provided for hereinafter.

The national retail trade council shall consist of at least one but not more than three, representatives from each major division of the retail trade presenting this code or hereafter subscribing to it, as the administrator shall designate

PLAN CANCELLED BY SUTHERLAND

Says Giving Gas Profit To Charity Not Advisable.

Declaring that "turning over of city funds to the community chest or Salvation Army to spend" for charity, "would be ill-advised," C. M Sutherland, chairman of the Nebraska Petroleum code committee, has asked Mayor Fleming and the city council "to give no consideration" to his proposal of October 17 that profits from sales of gasoline at the municipal gasoline station be diverted to the needy through the charity organizations. "No persons or group except your honorable body should spend the city's money," he added.

According to Mr. Sutherland, his proposal was made by him "as an individual." Sutherland stated in his letter to Mayor Fleming that the municipal oil business is being handled "in a business-like manner, and as satisfactory to commercial oil companies as a municipally operated station could be."

Following the meeting of the city council, at which Mr. Sutherland's letter was read, Mayor Fleming indicated that he is considering asking the council to approve submission to the voters at the next election of an amendment to the charter, that will permit the council to spend profits that accrue from the sale of gasoline. There is now close to $40,000 on hand

The council unanimously approved a resolution ordering the resurfacing of O street from Eighth to Sixteenth street The estimated cost is $51,000 The surfacing will be sheet asphalt over the present brick paving.

Two letters, both complaints by J. Zelen, were ordered placed on file. One objects to $10 being deducted from a bill for insulators. The other demands interest because payment of an account had been delayed.

When the letters were read, Paul W. Doerr, head of the water and light department, declared: "There is no reason why he should try and tell the council when we should pay our accounts. We bought wire from him on bids. Tests showed that what he furnished was soft drawn, when it should have been hard."

John: "It gives me an appetite just to look at it, Martha. Are you going to cook something now?" Martha: "No, John, I must 'cure' it before using it---you see, after it gets very hot, I grease it thoroughly, and the grease goes right into the metal, leaving an oily surface that further cooking and washing do not take away." John: "Why, that's much like the theory of Germ Processed---the motor oil we are using---only Conoco puts an extra oiliness in the mineral motor oil that gives it penetrativeness. How easily understood the 'Hidden Quart' is. Of course, our car starts easily and runs quietly! It must save wear, too." Martha: "Why don't other oil companies use that good method, John?" John: "It's patented and belongs only to Conoco in North America." Martha: "But does oil make our car start easily? I thought that was gasoline." John: "The oil helps, Martha, but quick starting is a feature of Conoco Bronze, so is pickup, power, mileage, and anti-knock. We can thank Conoco for saving us money this year. Let the weather get cold! With Germ Processed Winter Grade Oil and Conoco Bronze, we're all set. It's a great combination."

CONOCO

at the sign of the Red Triangle

CONOCO

Full motor protection, especially in cold motor starting, can be found only in Conoco Germ Processed (Paraffin Base) Motor Oil because the penetrative oiliness, called "The Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. Costs a total of only one-fifth of a cent a mile. Conoco Germ Processed Oil is the highest grade motor oil obtainable... the paraffin base crude oil sources, the scientific skill and the most modern of refineries combine to make it so. Then it is Germ Processed with an exclusive Conoco formula.

Instant Starting and Lightning Pick-up can best be obtained with Conoco Bronze Gasoline, and without sacrifice of Long Mileage, Greater Power and Anti Knock advantages For cold weather starting it cannot be excelled—all the possible fuel needs of modern cars have been fulfilled at no increase in price.

It can be easily identified by its bronze color but you must be sure it is Conoco Bronze Gasoline for only in this way can its advantages of unusual performance and greater economy be obtained.

Outrageous Fortune

By Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: By chance Caroline Leigh has found her cousin, Jim Randal. He tells her a fantastic story; claimed as husband by Nesta Riddell, he is told by Nesta that he stole the famous Van Berg emeralds and shot Elmer Van Berg. The worst is that Jim cannot remember the immediate past, except in flashes—and one of the flashes shows him drinking with Van Berg, and the emeralds in Van Berg's hand! Perhaps he did shoot the man, Jim tells Caroline. Caroline refuses to believe it, and plans to trace down Nesta's marriage record. She leaves Jim in Hale Place, his old home, but closed for the last few years.

Chapter 24.
TO LONDON.

Caroline caught the seven-thirty to London All the time she and Jim were getting into Hale Place, while he was pulling down the blankets and she was saying someone might see her if she came back by day, she was concocting a secret plan.

In the end she ran away because she was afraid that he would guess what she meant to do. She thought he would have guessed if he hadn't been stupid with fatigue. She thought eh was like a man half drugged. That was why he hadn't guessed, and it was lucky for her, because if he had guessed, he would have tried to stop her, and she meant to go.

It was past two o'clock when she came back to the cottage. The gate was unlatched and the door stood wide open as she had left it. If Patsy Ann had only known! To Patsy there was always a burglar round the next corner

Caroline undressed and lay down under her great-grandmother's embroidered quilt, but she did not sleep. She was too flooded with joy to sleep. Her hands still kept the touch of Jim's hands; her ears still rang with all the sounds of his voice. She had no time to fall asleep

At six she dressed, went tiptoe down the stairs, made tea, and boiled herself an egg Then she wrote on the slate, "Gone to town," and propped it up against the bowl of fruit in the middle of the gateleg table; after which she set out to walk four miles across the fields to Hinton, where she caught the train

She had the compartment to herself as far as Ledlington, where it filled up. She wondered what she would do if Nesta Riddell were to get in. How dare she say Jim was her husband? It was the most unbelievable, impudent thing. Caroline tripped up over her own word This wasn't unbelievable, because she had done it The unbelievable thing was that she should claim a stranger But she had claimed a stranger. Had she? If it was unbelievable, then Caroline didn't believe it Then he wasn't a stranger Where did this take her She had a terrified sense of having betrayed herself and Jim.

She pushed the word that had tripped her right out of her mind and shut the door on it She hadn't got to account for what Nesta Riddell had done. She had only to go to the Grove Road registry office and see James Riddell's name in a stranger's writing. That would prove that Nesta was lying, and that Jim was free. It was the easiest thing in the world, and she felt that she couldn't bear to see Jim again until she had the proof that it was not he who had signed the register as Nesta Riddell's husband.

The train jogged along. It stopped at every station, but after Ledlington the compartment was too full to take in any more passengers

There was an old woman with a string bag full of vegetables and an enormous sheaf of cottage flowers—crimson phlox, red and yellow single dahlias, full-blown cabbage roses, and clove carnations which scented the whole compartment.

She had a crushed black straw hat on the back of her head, a black Cashmere dress, and a thick black cloth coat Her face was broad and red under scanty wisps of grey hair. She was very hot, because she lived two miles out of Ledlington and had hurried to catch the train.

She fanned herself with a cabbage leaf, and as soon as she had got her breath she began to talk, first about the weather, and then about the Van Berg case. Three girls on the opposite seat, flimsily dressed slips of things with salmon-colored stockings, berets, and magenta lips went on whispering and giggling together while she told them how the snails were overrunning her garden from one end to the other, and how she had set a slug trap—"And if I was to tell you what I caught, you wouldn't believe me."

A shy young man who was fidgeting with an unlighted cigarette looked out of the window The Miss Borings, who kept a genteel woolshop in Mickleham street, sat primly side by side in their neat, dowdy blue serge coats and skirts They wore identical tucked muslin blouses with high collars and rolled gold collar-supports, and twin hats of dark blue straw with plain black ribbons.

The schoolboy next to them was immersed in the latest mystery thriller. The old gentleman with the beard went on filling his pipe And the young married couple opposite Caroline continued to hold one another's hands

Snails have no charm to unite a carriage full of strangers in a common bond of interest But no sooner had the stout woman pronounced the name Van Berg than everyone had something to say

"It's a queer thing they don't seem to catch the man that shot Mr. Van Berg," she said, and the schoolboy emerged from his thriller with a jerk.

"They say they've got a clue," he began.

"That doesn't mean very much," said the old man He tapped his pipe. "The sort of thing they say to keep the public quiet—like throwing a bone to a dog."

The girl with the large blue eyes rolled them at the shy young man and giggled.

The stout woman fanned herself.

"I was up at the Hall yesterday—"

"Packham Hall?" said both Miss Borings together.

The stout woman nodded.

"Cook's my brother's second wife's cousin-in-law, and I took her over a couple of pots of honey. The shop stuff's that watered down she don't relish it, so I took her some of mine—never been before where they didn't keep their own bees, and don't like it "And then to have a murder, or next door to it, well, she don't think she'll stay—such an upset, and not what she's used to. Why, when she heard the shot, she come over that queer she couldn't have got out of bed, not if it had been the house on fire.

"'Mrs Rogers,' she says—that being my name—'Mrs Rogers, I give you my solemn identical word, I just pulled the clothes over my head and waited to see if I was going to be murdered in my bed.' She don't look her right color yet"

"I don't know how I should feel if I was to hear someone being shot in the middle of the night," said the young married woman.

"I know what you'd do," said her husband — "pinch me, same as you're doing now."

The girl giggled, and the Miss Borings coughed.

"Ah!" said Mrs Rodgers. "It isn't everyone that's got someone to pinch, I'm a widow meself, and so's Mrs. Henry that I've been telling you about Her 'usband was a p'liceman, so it doesn't put her about having the police in and out and all over the place, as you might say—and maybe she'd got told a thing or two as she wouldn't have got told if it weren't for her 'usband's official position."

Everyone leaned forward a little.

The shy young man burst into speech

"Did she tell you whom they suspected?"

Mrs Rodgers shook her head.

"Were there any finger prints?" said the schoolboy. "They'll get him if there were"

"Ah!" said Mrs Rodgers darkly "Well, I don't know as I ought to say, but seeing as we're all friends here—" She paused, fanning herself

Caroline caught the inside of her lip between her teeth. Her hands held each other hard A general murmur encouraged Mrs. Rodgers to proceed

"Well, it's something as hasn't got into the papers—I can tell you that—and everyone in the house told not to say a word. They'd have kep' them from knowing if so be they could, but when there's a tray and glasses took for finger prints, there's going to be talk in the servants' hall whether or no."

"Ah—" said the old man with the beard

Caroline's grip relaxed a trifle She knew this already; it was what Jim had told her. But then it meant—it meant he had remembered right!

Art Goebel, Famous Aviator, Will Write In Sky Over Lincoln

Art Goebel, world-famed trans-Pacific flyer and holder of various aviation speed records, is now a "man of letters," making a tour of the middle west, skywriting over all of the principal cities. He will be seen over Lincoln from 10 o'clock until noon on Wedesdnay, Oct. 25, writing smoky words some two miles in the heavens.

Goebel will be remembered as the winner of the Dole trans-Pacific flight in 1927, when he realized $25,000 for his 25,000 mile hope over the foggy waters. Before then he was just a movie stunt flyer.

Later he was one of a group of aviators to make a good will tour of the Orient. He was also the first man to make a non-stop flight across the United States, west to east, in 1928. He won first place in the air race from Mexico City to Kansas City in 1929.

Colonel Goebel, as he is officially known, made his first attempts at sky writing about a month ago, and he is now considered one of the best in the game.

In making his tour of the state, he is stopping in Lincoln Wednesday, after making Omaha on Tuesday Hastings, Grand Island and North Platte will be his other Nebraska stops.

Just as Sheriff Mengel was closing the sale at 3 p. m. he received a telegram from the plaintiff's attorney to cancel the sale, notwithstanding that more than $1,000 above the judgment had been bid.

Prowler Terrorizes Young Omaha Woman For Half An Hour

OMAHA, Oct. 24— (AP) —Aroused from sleep by a flashlight beam playing on her face, Mrs. George Svoboda, 19, was terrorized for 30 minutes by a negro prowler in her bedroom early today before she persuaded him to leave without harming her. She handed over $45 and a diamond set cross.

Mrs. Svoboda was staying at the home of her father-in-law, Frank Svoboda. She awakened to see a squat, powerful negro, pointing a revolver at her. The man attempted to assault her but upon her offer of the money and cross agreed to leave quietly. Her 10-month-old baby, awakened by the noise, chattered throughout the prowler's visit.

ROOSEVELT GETS NEVILLE'S PRAISE

Former Governor Tells Of Situation in Agricultural States.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 24—(AP)—Without replying to a request that he withdraw his resignation as chairman of the Nebraska NRA board, Keith Neville Monday night sent a letter to Hugh S. Johnson, federal recovery administrator, explaining he had no desire to embarrass President Roosevelt in his recovery program.

The former governor added that he is not in sympathy with the farm strike and that it will add to the economic distress in Nebraska and other agricultural states. He urged immediate approval of Nebraska public works projects already given technical approval, and said they will give the only relief to be hoped for in this state.

Letter of Neville.

The letter:

"I have no desire to embarrass or obstruct President Roosevelt's efforts to point out and map the road to recovery. His efforts should command the admiration of everyone. His pledge in last night's address that a way will be found to raise the price of farm commodities will bring hope and encouragement to Nebraska and other agricultural states. My concern is that the extent of agriculture's plight and the necessity for finding that way at once will not be fully realized in Washington.

"I regret and deplore the proposed farm strike, which is the inspiration of desperate and discouraged men. It will increase economic distress in Nebraska and other agricultural states. Its effects will fall most harshly upon the neighbors of those who participate in it and the communities in which they live. It will not in my opinion be helpful in solving agriculture's problem. It is the result of failure to bring agricultural states the benefits that have been brought through recovery agencies to other sections.

"It should be kept in mind that the agricultural states are detached from the industrial states, that the benefits that NRA has brought to the industrial states of the east has not been experienced in the agricultural states of the middle west, that the effect of NRA in the middle west has been to increase costs of operating farm and business without a corresponding increase in purchasing power. Effective December first, the price of crude oil will be pegged at $1 11 per barrel and of gasoline at 6½ cents per gallon at the refineries. This pegging will greatly benefit oil producing states, but it will add to the cost of operation of farms and business in the agricultural states.

"In agricultural states such as Nebraska the only immediate relief to be hoped for must come from the public works administration.

Need Public Works.

"In his address of Sunday night, President Roosevelt said: 'Washington has the money and is waiting for the proper projects to which to allow it.' If the public works administration would approve at once all Nebraska projects that have been favorably reported by the engineering, the legal and the financial departments of that agency, it would put thousands of men to work and would help to bridge over the period until President Roosevelt's pledge that a way will be found to raise the price of farm commodities can be realized.

"The retailer's code, signed by the president this morning, exempts from the provisions of the NRA all business in towns of 2,500 or less employing less than five persons. This will be helpful but it does not go far enough. There is no difference in the situation of the small merchant in towns of 2,500, in cities of 5,000 or in cities of 50,000.

"In my opinion all businesses in agricultural states, which employ less than 10 persons should be exempt from the provisions of the NRA, if great numbers of business failures are to be avoided. I make this recommendation in view of the fact that the NRA has increased materially the cost of operating farms and businesses in Nebraska and in view of the fact that there is no immediate prospect of materially increasing the buying power.

"I realize that the public works administration has no connection with the NRA, but since the situation in Nebraska can only be relieved by the fullest measure of co-ordination and co-operation between all recovery agencies, I earnestly urge that all Nebraska projects which have successfully passed the preliminary examinations by agencies of the public works administration be approved at the earliest possible moment."

Al Smith Says Fair Shows Vast Strides Of Private Industry

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(AP)—The world's fair, in the words of farmer Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, is an example of the progress of industry, the triumph of "the mind and the hand of free men, without dictatorship."

The one-time democratic standard bearer took occasion yesterday to voice his disapproval of growing government powers in an address beofre thousands of shivering admirers during ceremonies planned especially in his honor.

"Priate initiative may sometimes need the curb and bit of government control, but the government is at its best when it supplements and co-operates with private industry," he said. He did not, however, make any direct reference to the present administration and its national recovery program.

Nazi-Semetic Row Flares Up In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)—A Nazi-Semitic controversy, flaring into bitterness, dropped a new problem into Mayor John P. O'Brien's lap today.

A committee of the united German societies sought to have him lift a ban on a "German Day" celebration Sunday. The mayor, saying he had been informed Nazi propaganda would be disseminated and that disorder might break out, forbade the meeting.

Bernard and Victor Ridder, newspaper publishers, charged at a stormy meeting of the societies last night that "gangsters" controlled the organization. They said Heins Spanknoebel, a pro-Nai leader,s had taken over the societies with "imported hotheads." The Ridders forthwith were expelled for "treason."

A spokesman for a German-Jewish faction, which has put the societies, was hooted down. Spanknoebel denied he would make a "Nazi speech at the celebration" and offered to submit his speech to the mayor in advance.

O'Malley said five complaints of violators in Nebraska have already been investigated by Omaha field supervisors, but charges were found groundless in each case.

All field workers have been instructed to be on the lookout for violations. The complaint arises out of wheat allotment provisions that farmers may have wheat processed for their own family use free of the tax.

Petitions Being Circulated Among Owners Of Farm Lands.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 24—(AP)—New petitions for the Tri-county power and irrigation project are being circulated to include farm as well as city territory in the project. The present district, created under the public power and irrigation district law passed by the last legislature, includes only the three towns, Hastings, Holdrege and Minden.

The new petitions are expected to be ready within a week or ten days.

Petitions Filed.

New petitions for the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district, to include rural territory as well as the towns of Hastings Holdrege and Minden are now in file with the state engineer. They carry the same name as the already created district, whose charter is on file with the secretary of state. The descriptions of the projects are identical except that the new petitions make the district comprise the counties of Adams, Kearney, Gosper and Phelps instead of just the three towns.

The board of directors is increased in the new petition from nine to 12. The former nine are renamed and those added are Claude Smith, F. J. Bear and J. S. Fitzsimmons, all of Elwood. The petitions carried 564 signatures from Gosper county, 770 from Phelps, 618 from Kearney and 2,808 from Adams.

VOICE IN A Wilderness

A shopper may wander, aisle after aisle, counter after counter, through a wilderness of "bargains." Things so cheap that yesterday's prices sem to have been ridiculously high, yesterday's purchases unwise and made too soon.

It is a fact that materials and manufacturing costs have been cut. Sound merchandise does cost less. But how often the "bargain," put to legitimate use, proves entirely a phantom. Furniture should be made to live with, not just to be sold. Shirts and socks should give service on the person and through the laundry, as well as appeal to eye and pocketbook in the store. Dress fabrics, cut into little frocks, must be exposed to sunlight, hard wear and repeated tubbings.

How, in this wilderness of manufactured things, can a person be sure of buying the genuine? What is to be his guide? Advertising brings the announcements of manufacturers who would not and could not presume upon your credulity.

In today's market it is more important than ever that you heed theadvertisements— that you ask for and receive the kind of merchandise that can be advertised.

The President's Money Plan
What Are Money and Value?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The president's latest speech contains more "news," more material for hard thinking, more statements to startle old-fashioned Americans, than any speech made by a president of the United States since the era of "organized money" began.

This sentence will startle some:

"The edifice of recovery—the temple which, when completed, will no longer be a temple of money-changers or of beggars, but rather a temple dedicated to and maintained for a greater social justice, a greater welfare of America—the habitation of a sound economic life."

"Best minds" will shudder as they read "no longer a temple of money-changers or of beggars,' and ask, in the innocence of their hearts "When were the American people beggars, who are the money-changers, where is the temple from which NRA will drive them? Is it Wall street?"

The president says that among thirteen millions idle last spring, "were several millions who could be classed as normally idle, people who worked occasionally, when they felt like it, others who preferred not to work at all."

That left ten millions idle, eager to work President Roosevelt says four millions, or forty per cent of the total, have found jobs since NRA began

Of NRA, the president says "It has abolished child labor. It has eliminated the sweatshop. It has ended 60 cents a week paid in some mills, and 80 cents a week paid in some mines."

Many with money in closed banks will rejoice in the president's statement that "the federal government is about to spend one billion dollars as an immediate loan on frozen or non-liquid assets of all banks closed since Jan. 1, 1933, giving a liberal appraisal to those assets. This money will be in the hands of depositors as quickly as it is humanly possible to get it out"

The president reminds you that after Jan 1, your deposit in the bank will be guaranteed by the government against dishonesty or stupidity up to $2,500.

Vitally important, to the public and future prosperity, is the president's statement on money. Everybody should read it. Although not everybody will understand it You might count on your fingers and toes all in the United States that really know anything about money, and more than fifteen of them would not know much.

The president says:

"The United States must take firmly in its own hands the control of the gold value of our dollar."

Those as ignorant as this writter will ask "How can you establish the gold value of our dollar, when gold itself has no definite value? What makes it worth $20 an ounce or $42 an ounce except the figures stamped on a round piece of gold, or the gold values established by the foreign money?"

The president undoubtedly has taken what he believes to be the soundest advice before announcing: "I am going to establish a government market for gold in the United States Therefore, under the clearly defined authority of existing law, I am authorizing the Reconstruction Finance Corp to buy gold newly mined in the United States at prices to be determined from time to time after consultation with the Secretary of the treasury and the president. Whenever necessary to the end in view, we shall also buy or sell gold in the world market. My aim in taking this step is to establish and maintain continuous control.

"This is a policy, and not an expedient"

WEBER OUTLINES CHURCH CRUSADE

Says Success of NRA Depends on Spiritual Intangibles.

Plans for a "spiritual recovery crusade," which has for its purpose the revival of church activities through additional funds for its spiritual and missionary work, were explained by Dr. Herman C. Weber of New York before a meeting of 40 local Presbyterian leaders at the First Presbyterian church Monday evening.

"Back of the hope for success of the national recovery codes lies certain intangibles, such as good will, the spirit of self denial and self sacrifice, justice and mercy," Dr. Weber declared. 'Dollar inflation price management and commercial codes will not bring success unless there is a national spirit operating on a much higher level. It is the task of the churches to bring the intangibles into circulation," he declared in closing

Just when the drive for additional funds for the work will begin in Lincoln is as yet undecided, Rev. Paul Johnston, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, who presided over the meeting, said.

Mantell, Son of Actor, Kills Self

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24—(AP)—Police reported Robert Mantell, jr., 21-year-old son of the late Robert B. Mantell, famous Shakespearian actor, shot and killed himself early today in the apartment occupied by himself and his mother, known on the stage as Genevieve Hamper.

The suicide, for which friends told police the motive apparently was discouragement over his career as an actor, took place on the eve of his mother's return to the stage. Miss Hamper was to appear in the role of Portia tomorrow night at a Los Angeles theater.

The youth had accompanied his mother to a rehearsal and they returned to their apartment late last night.

Several hours later, Miss Hamper was awakened by a revolver shot, and found her son dead.

WITNESSES MUM ON GUS WINKLER

Coroner's Jury Gets Little Information On Gangster Murder.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(AP)—A coroner's jury of prominent citizens investigating the slaying of the gang chief, Gus Winkler, pondered today over the large number of "no" answers it received from witnesses quizzed as to their knowledge of the man.

First to deny acquaintance with Winkler at yesterday's hearing was Charles Weber, a county commissioner, in front of whose beer dispensing depot Winkler was shot to death

Weber was followed to the stand by Charles E. Blake, local newspaperman, who testified that a government man had told him that Winkler was not only financially interested in the place, but that he had invested $3,500 to open it.

Witnesses who said they did not know how Winkler gained livelihood sufficient to maintain a fashionable apartment on Lake Shore drive included David Goldblatt, his reputed bodyguard, and Mrs. Bonnie Burke, wife of Fred (Killer) Burke, now serving a life sentence in Michigan for murder

William R. (Billy) Skidmore, alleged gambler, denied knowing Winkler and furthermore said he did not frequent gambling places

The widow was unable to testify as she was recuperating from the effects of gas. She was found unconscious in her apartment the previous night by Mrs. Burke and officers.

The investigation was continued until next Monday.

FIND CHANGE IN AID ATTITUDE

Mrs. Clayton Says Some Unappreciative Of Federal Relief.

Mrs. Clara Clayton, state child welfare director, Tuesday said federal relief is changing the attitude of needy persons in many Nebraska counties from a spirit of gratefulness to one of demanding "our share of federal money."

She said her recent travel over the state indicated a distinct change in sentiment as compared with a year ago.

"The people used to be very appreciative of everything done for them Now you can see them walk up to relief headquarters and say, 'I want mine.' One man even talked about missing the 'last federal pay day'"

Finds Three Welfare Boards.

Mrs. Clayton said only three Nebraska counties now have county welfare boards under the act passed by the 1931 legislature

Of the three, she said, the one in Platte county has been by far the most successful, but expressed fear Mrs E. W. Johnson relief worker for the board at Columbus, may leave in the near future "In Platte county, Mrs. Johnson and the welfare board have utilized every agency which could assist in welfare work"

Mrs Clayton said the Platte county board was one of the few agencies in the state which had worked out a satisfactory means of meeting the transient problem.

In none of the three counties where welfare boards are maintained, are they handling the relief problem, she said, due to the appointment of relief committees for handling of federal funds The other two counties are Cheyenne and Deuel

Politics Govern City Zoning, Lawyer Charges

Charges that politics have governed zoning were made to the city council Monday afternoon, at a hearing of an appeal by Mrs. Mary Alice Sward, who has tried repeatedly to have her property at Fifty-sixth and O streets zoned for local business, but without success. She wants to use a residence occupied by her sister, as a fashionable cafe

Mrs Sward's attorney, Bryan Littrell said, "I do know that politics has governed action in connection with zoning," he declared. He was not asked for details, and gave none

After the hearing, four members of the council viewed the property, and agreed Mrs. Sward should be given some concession.

FIGHT LOOMS IN SELECTING NEW FRENCH PREMIER

pointment of Georges Bonnet as finance minister again and the forcing through of a budegt balancing program.

Former Premier Edouard Herriot said Daladier was certain to return to power.

PARIS Oct. 24—(AP)—The cabinet of Premier Edouard Daladier fell early today battling for a balanced budget and insisting to the last that sound finances alone could avert imminent inflation and the fall of the franc.

Within an hour after its defeat, 329 to 241, on a vote of condence, the entire cabinet hurried to Elysee palace and presented their resignations to President Lebrun.

The president immediately outlined a series of consultations with senate and chamber of deputies presidents, committee heads and party leaders before offering the premiership.

Albert Sarraut, a senator, was mentioned as the most likely to succeed M. Daladier. Owing to the bitterness which developed in the chamber, it was not considered likely a deputy would be considered.

Burns His Bridges.

As M. Daladier fell, he burned his bridges behind him in an open break with the socialists—reproaching their millionaire leader, Leon Blum, for negotiating a compromise and then refusing to support it.

Usually calm and deliberate, the premier raised his arms in violent gestures as he denounced Blum, who appeared to take tragically the supposed end of his power seen in the socialist split on the vote.

His spare form contrasing sharply with that of the thickset and burly premier and his voice choking, Blum asserted the government's plan would but have paved the way for a further deficit.

"You are going to again reduce the purchasing power of the consumers," Blum cried. "No one is more oposed to inflation than we, but we also want a stable relation between wages and prices."

200 Persons Arrested.

The ministry's overthrow was unusually dramatic as M. Daladier's denunciation of Blum came to climax a day filled with tenseness both inside the jammed chamber of deputies and in streets surrounding the historic Palais Bourbon where police and republican guards kept off taxpayers demonstrating against certain proposed levies. Two hundred persons were arrested.

The breaking of the left majority through a defection of the socialists—who split within their own ranks on the climactic vote which came on the government's proposed compromise—again raised the issue of a left center coalition government head.

In this connection, the names of Former Premier Camille Chautemps, Georges Bonnet and M. Anatole Demonzie also were mentioned along with Sarraut.

In any case, the Daladier-Blum feud—long simmering—now has come to a head and likely will play a big part in the selection of a new cabinet.

Took Office January 31.

As has been customary in the last few cabinet overthrows (M. Daladier's succeeded Joseph Paul-Boncour's last January 31), the government imposed a censorship—holding up dispatches of the defeat until it was officially confirmed.

The vote which after days of heated discussion finally sealed the fate of the ministry came on a compromise amendment which would have pared in half the government's original proposed slash in functionaries' salaries.

The premier had proposed new taxes and stringent economies in connection with a program to balance the budget and protect the franc.

Through the compromise, it had been hoped the socialists would be satisfied. But Blum refused to accept it after prolonged debate.

The president's search for a man to balance the budget began at 9 a. m., today five hours after M. Daladier resigned.

M. Lebrun got three hours sleep and then summoned several persons for consultation today and tomorrow. These included Jules Jeanney and Fernand Emile Bouisson, president of the senate and the chamber, Joseph Caillaux and Louis Jean Malvy, chairmen of the finance committees, and two commission reporters.

The selection of the premier is possible tomorrow night, but since M. Daladier broke with the socialists, who split, and since the left cartel appears destined for the ash heap, there may be a delay to enable the political groups to form a stable majority.

NEBRASKA CITY BANK ROBBED OF NEARLY $6,000

but it was locked," Shuey recounted. "I offered to open it, but he said: 'No, don't move. Stay where you are.' The men up in front then made Eisenmann open a door there. The two men entered with what looked like a flour sack and began emptying the contents of the cash drawer into it. They then made Billy go back and open the safe, which they also cleaned out in a thorough manner.

Looked In Waste Basket.

"There was no money except in the cash drawer and in the safe, but the bandits looked in every desk and corner. The big man told them: 'You've got plenty time. Look in the waste basket. They may have some hidden there,' Shuey said.

After rifling the safe, the leader of the bandits told the three occupants of the bank: "You're coming with us," the bank clerk related.

Billy had been sick and he asked leave to get his coat. One of the bandits told him to come along, but the leader said: 'Let him have it. There's plenty of time.'"

One of the men then got Eisenmann his overcoat, according to Shuey, and the leader of the bandits assisted the bank employe in putting it on, after first searching the pockets for firearms.

The two bank employes and Dr. Gilligan were then forced to walk alongside the bandits to the bandits' car parked a short distance away from the bank's door. A fourth bandit was at the wheel of the car, the motor of which had been turned off, according to Shuey.

Depart Slowly.

As the driver started the motor, one of the bandits got in the front seat, while two of the other men got in the back with Eisenmann. Dr. Gilligan was forced to stand on the right running board and Shuey on the left, he said.

Heading west at a slow rate of speed, the bandits drove about ten blocks to the western edge of Nebraska City with the driver seeming to have considerable difficulty in keeping the car from zig-zagging, according to Shuey.

"Reaching highway No. 75, the bandits turned north in the direction of Omaha," the bank clerk related. "They went north the distance of about three blocks and then stopped to let Dr. Gilligan and myself out. They then kept going north with Billy still in the car."

HEAD OF DENTISTS.

YORK, Neb., Oct. 24—(AP)—Dr. D. W. Dulaigh of Sutton was elected president of the Central District society at the annual meeting here last night.

1857 Nebraska Bank Note Turns Up But Declared Worthless

An attorney at St. Joseph, Mo., has written to State Treasurer Hall inquiring whether an old bill for $5 of Nebraska state bank currency issued in 1857 by the "Waubeek bank" of De Soto has any present value. The specimen printed on only one side, was enclosed in the letter. Hall is sending it back with the reply that several hundred thousand dollars of old unredeemed state bank notes in Nebraska are still in existence, but are worthless.

Practically all the banks which were doing business here in the '50s and early '60s are no longer in existence. The "money" was originally issued under authority of the territorial legislature, but usually circulated at a discount. When the national banking law was enacted during the Civil war, it put the kibosh on all state bank currency.

INFLATION TALK PERSISTS ON EVE OF GOLD BUYING

21 cents more than the day before. The practice has been followed for weeks back, but is to be abandoned in view of the Roosevelt purchase plan.

Talk of outright currency inflation persists among its advocates here, despite the new policy that does not embrace printing press money.

A group of currency inflationists met in private conference this forenoon, Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, saying a resolution would be prepared to be sent to the White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24— (AP) — The government set out today to put into practical operation President Roosevelt's new monetary plan for lifting commodity prices.

Immediate purchases of newly mined gold was the first step scheduled in employing the dollar control policy over which world financial authorities expressed widely divergent opinions.

But already home commodity markets had bounded upward upon the president's announcement of this step toward a "managed currency."

The chief executive at once began conferences with Jesse Jones, chairman of the reconstruction corporation which will make the purchases. Official sources indicated the RFC will offer to pay more than the London-Paris prices for new gold.

Will Free Dollar.

Government authorities believed such a transaction will free the dollar from control by foreign banks and speculators.

Results hoped for include a cheapening of the dollar in terms of pounds and francs and an increase in the world price of gold. With such an increase in gold prices, economists looked for a boost in commodity prices.

To reinforce new gold buying whenever necessary to attain his objective, the president planned to trade in gold on the world markets —buying to encourage price increases; selling to check excessive rises.

A direct relation was said to exist between the nation's gold stock and commodity prices. Early 1933 exports of gold were accompanied by sharp declines. Economists said the president's gold embargo stopped the decline and helped stimulate higher commodity levels.

FARM PICKETS WITHDRAW FROM IOWA HIGHWAYS

"war" for higher prices, while pickets increased their activities in Iowa, home of the farm strike movement.

The news that a group of Illinois farmers, estimated to number 2,000 had voted at Kankakee to join the anti-selling campaign, was followed quickly by reports from western Iowa that pickets had stopped trucks loaded with farm products bound for the important market center of Omaha.

Two groups of farmers, numbering 125 or more, halted about twenty trucks early today at Oakland, Ia., while several others loaded with hogs were stopped at Crescent. At the latter point the drivers were warned not to attempt any further deliveries to Omaha.

"We mean business" one of the pickets told a driver. "Turn that truck back and don't come back."

Picketing at Sioux City.

Other reports told of picketing yesterday in northwestern Iowa, where many trucks bound for the Sioux City market, were turned back, while from Wisconsin word was received that part of a load of milk was spilled by farm pickets before it coud be delivered to a condensery at Vesper.

The action of the Illinois farmers came after they had listened to Milo Reno of Des Moines, president of the National Farmers' Holiday association, which sponsored the anti-selling drive, with the idea of raising farm prices and forcing the federal administration to give agriculturalists an NRA.

Reno told the Illinois group that the administration's farm relief program was "idiotic" and attacked Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, declaring he should be known as "the secretary of Wall street."

Rail Group Pledges Support.

The Illinois farmers, who met under the auspices of the United farmers of Illinois, adopted a resolution asserting they would refuse to market farm produce for less than the cost of production.

Meanwhile Reno left for Des Moines, with a pledge of "sympathetic co-operation" obtained yesterday in Chicago from Alexander F. Whitney, chairman of the Labor Executives Labor association, a railway group.

In North Dakota sheriffs sought to prevent shipment of grain from elevators, in accordance with an embargo proclaimed by Gov. William Langer.

Despite the strike, however, market centers in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and Wisconsin reported there had been no pronounced effect on receipts.

Oklahoma and Texas To Act.

Farm groups in Oklahoma and Texas announced they were planning a vote soon on the question of joining the strike.

Meanwhile in Washington George N Peek, administrator of the farm adjustment act, urged farmers to "fight enemies, not friends."

"I think" he said, "the president has clearly indicated that he is a friend of the farmer." He added that the president's efforts for higher agricultural prices "should be reassuring to the farmer."

Senate Committee to Probe Cleveland and Detroit Bank Closings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—The senate banking committee decided today to investigate the closed bank situations in Cleveland and Detroit.

In a brief executive session, Senator Couzens, democrat, Michigan, recommended the inquiry.

Chairman Fletcher said the committee intends to ascertain the relations of closed banks in those cities with the federal reserve bank and investment banking houses.

He read his announcement as the committee resumed open inquiry into the Chase National bank.

Committeemen indicated the inquiry would come as soon as the present hearings are out of the way.

whose operations are regarded as almost beyond external regulation.

Hopes were strong also that this withdrawal, expressly announced as a concession to the farmer who complains of rising prices, and to the merchant who depends on farm trade for existence, would quiet the antagonism to the blue eagle which has mounted in the midwest.

NRA men privately never were convinced that the farm complaint was fully justified. They contend the best statistics available show that the price of things the farmer sells, despite the recent slump, held to a greater price advance since March than the industrial products he buys.

Nevertheless, with the sentiment existing and in view of the difficulty either of policing or of extending credit to the merchant in small towns, they now consider the retreat a helpful step.

SENATE GROUP HEARS FACTOR'S KIDNAP STORY

was a kidnap victim several months ago, and his 18 year old son was kidnaped only a few weeks before that.

"The kidnapers aren't afraid of the city police," Factor said, "because they've gotten away with too much on them before."

Factor answered all questions asked of him by Senators Royal S. Copeland of New York and Louis Murphy of Iowa.

"When certain negotiations were under way for my release," he said, "I asked the kidnapers to write a letter to my wife.

"They refused point blank to have anything to do with the mail. They know the federal government never lets up."

Paid Out $100,000.

Factor, who became an international financier after starting as a Chicago barber, reportedly paid more than $100,000 for release of his son and himself.

Factor furnished a dramatic account of his period of captivity. He declared the kidnapers preyed upon his fear and on occasions treated him brutally.

"One night they brought out a blow torch and threatened to burn my feet," he continued. "Sometimes they would hit me when they thought I was not telling the truth in answer to their questions."

Factor said one of the kidnapers —"I always call him my friend"— had interceded for him when the others were brutal.

Senator Murphy voiced agreement with Factor's belief of the federal government being the best agency to fight kidnapers. But added that its resources were too limited to work on every case.

"Oh, sure," Factor replied, "but they ought to co-operate to the fullest extent. That's the only way to beat them."

Blames Technicalities.

Steve Sumner, head of the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers' union and also experienced in dealing with kidnapers, told the hearing technicalities in the law were responsible for racketeering and crime. Sumner said he paid $50,000 ransom for a union official who had been kidnaped by gangsters seeking to gain control of the union and its $1,000,000 treasury.

"Those birds on the Supreme court—and they are birds," the 84-year-old Sumner said in a high pitched voice, "let too many criminals get away because of technicalities."

He left with a promise to the senators to "help you drive a nail in these racketeers' coffins any time you call on me."

Increase In Death, Fewer Births First Six Months Of This Year

An increase in Nebraska's death rate coincidentally with a falling off in number of births is shown for the first six months of 1933, in comparison with the same period of 1932, in tabulations prepared by the state vital statistics division which State Health Director Bartholomew released Tuesday for publication.

There were 6,974 deaths from January to June, inclusive this year, as against 6,564 in the first half of 1932.

The birth record is 12,151 for the six months term of 1933, compared with 12,542 in the preceding annum.

Heart Disease Leads.

Heart disease, as usual, tops the list of diseases causing mortality. The number of deaths attributed to all forms of this malady is 1,328, or 90 more than a year ago. Angina pectoris, classified separately, claimed 130 victims in the six months this year against 109 in 1932.

Some of the other more prolific causes of death were:

Apoplexy, 756, an increase of 74.
Cancer, all forms, 716, exactly the same as in 1932.
Pneumonia, all forms, 643, an increase of 157.
Nephritis, acute and chronic, 431, a decrease of 147.
Influenza, all forms, 397, an increase of 98.
Tuberculosis, all forms, 181, an increase of 23.
Senility, 120, an increase of 61.
Diabetes, 119, a decrease of 48.
Appendicitis, 119 a decrease of 12

There were 14 fatal cases of scarlet fever, 2 of typhoid, 11 of whooping cough, 9 of diphtheria, 10 of erysipelas, 3 of poliomyelitis, 41 of meningitis, 6 of tetanus (lockjaw), 34 of syphilis, 29 of anemia, 8 of alcoholism, 95 of arterial hardening 26 of bronchitis, 24 of alimentary ulcers, 39 of diarrhoea, 66 of hernia, and 20 of prostatic disease.

Sucides during the first six months this year numbered 134, being fewer by 10 than in the same period of 1932. There were 16 homicides, a decrease of 2.

Auto Crashes Kill 100.

Automobile accidents cost the lives of 100 persons, being 22 more than in the previous annum. There were 14 railroad fatalities, compared with 16 the year before. Excessive heat caused 17 deaths this year, during the torrid wave last June, where none was reported for the first half of 1932. One person froze to death, against 3 in 1932.

Five were killed in airplane and balloon casualties, against only 2 in the same period of last year.

No deaths due to street car accidents were reported in either year, for the first half.

Of the 12,151 children born from January to June this year, 11,865 were white, 114 negroes, 49 Indians, 117 Mexican and mixed, and 6 Asiatic. Each of these groups registered a falling off except the Indian, in which the increase over last year was 9.

The births included 120 pairs of twins and two sets of triplets.

TELLS RELATION CLERGY, LAITY

Bishop Kucera Speaks at Session Council Catholic Women.

A one o'clock luncheon with the Most Rev. Bishop Louis B. Kucera, bishop of Lincoln, as principal speaker, climaxed the first day's sessions of the fall convention of the Lincoln diocesan council of Catholic women, Tuesday, at the Cornhusker hotel. Bishop Kucera spoke on the laity of the Catholic church.

"It is a mistake to regard the laity of the church as a separate member from the clergy," the bishop said. "The church is one, and no part of it is separate from the other." He compared the church with the human body. As the arms, legs or head are different but not separate parts of the body, so are the laity and the clergy, in making up the church. Mrs. W. E. Straub of Lincoln, president of the diocesan council, presided.

The morning meetings followed the opening solemn pontifical mass, celebrated by Bishop Kucera. The following committees to assist Mrs. Straub were announced.

WAR DANGERS TOLD BY HARRIS

Tells Wesleyan Assembly Youth Has No Future Without Peace.

There are two approaches to peace, according to Dr. Paul Harris, jr. co-director of the youth movement for world recovery. Dr. Harris told an audience of Wesleyan university students Tuesday morning that the two methods are, "the long-term approach, or education, and the short-term approach, or holding war at bay. The latter method," he said, "means getting at the men who make the decisions of war."

The talk was Harris' first appearance in Lincoln. He will be here Wednesday also. He was brought here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. He was introduced Tuesday morning by Paul Rieber, '35, Hastings, president of the Wesleyan Y. M. C. A.

"There is one issue that holds the power of life and death over your heads," Harris told his audience. "And that issue is war. If we don't stop war, then nothing else matters. If war comes again there is no life for young men and no future for young women, because war will break down everything that civilization and our school principles stand for. For you," he declared, "war is hell turned loose."

According to Harris, there has never been an American born who grew to manhood and died in an era of peace. "Every generation of America has had a war," he asserted. "And now, with the speed and attitude of the present world, the nations are more ready to fight than ever before."

Tuesday evening, Mr. Harris will speak at the First-Plymouth Congregational church. He will address a Lincoln high school assembly at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, the University of Nebraska student form at noon at the Grand hotel, and the University Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Temple building.

REOPENING OF P STREET PLANNED

Fleming and Bair Propose Crossing at Rock Island Tracks.

Proposals by Mayor Fenton B. Fleming and Commissioner E. M. Bair that P street be opened across the Rock Island tracks may meet with a number of difficulties before accomplished, it was learned Tuesday. Unless the carrier would agree to the opening, the property must be condemned and paid for. This would include the condemnation of part of a brick warehouse.

The street was closed across the tracks when the Rock Island was given a right of way through the city in about 1892. Later, an effort was made to open it again, but without success. Then it was proposed that the company be compelled to build a viaduct across the tracks on P street, and also at J street, and when submitted to a vote was approved.

Approval by the voters was followed by a mandamus action, in 1913 which was carried to the state Supreme court, where the decision was against the city. The decree set out that the company could not be compelled to build a viaduct where there was no street.

Law and Order.

Love wants discipline and order if it is to prosper and flourish But love wants order that is adapted to it, not placed above it or before it, not trammelling and suffocating its outlets.

Thus, we have dreary homes in which love is sacrificed to routine, to appearances, to pretenses of all kinds. And again, we see homes in which love comes first, in which the mode and manner of living are adapted personally to the participants of the home rather than trying to fit the personalities to a preconceived schedule of what home life should be. It is the latter type of marriage that succeeds gloriously, and the first order which is a dreary mistake.

All provisional arrangements for a love union are unsound. The various recommended companionate, trial and other faddy unions have been proven as tawdry and unsatisfactory substitutes.

The law and order, the accepted respectability and social acceptance of marriage are all needed for the perpetuation of love.

The system of easy divorce and repeated experiments at marriage, so much in vogue in recent years, have led only to greater unrest and dissatisfaction.

So we see modern young couples determined to marry to stay married, which is a wholesome thing.

The only embellishment which the old form of marriage seems to need is that of placing love first and keeping it there, regardless of poverty or riches, of social customs or precedent. The need is for married couples to dare to be themselves, and to satisfy their own and their mate's requirements of harmonious living, no matter what the relatives or the neighbors say.

Week-End Pleasures.

Dear Minerva: My husband and I have been married five years and have one small child. All our friends and relatives, especially the latter, say that we are headed for the rocks. I wonder.

We are criticised because we still are fun-loving and always expect to be. Practically every week-end since we have been married (excepting when the baby was brand new) we have gone on a trip of some sort. Sometimes we take a deluxe sort of outing, dressing for dinner, staying at a good hotel, going to a good show or dancing. Sometimes we camp out, cook our meals in the open and sleep under the stars. Sometimes we go visiting, either to see some classmate in a nearby town, to help milk the cows on a relative's farm, and now and then to some ritzy house party.

We don't belong to any clubs in town, for this isn't our idea of fun. We entertain now and then, to pay our debts to friends that we visit throughout the year. But we don't exchange dinners and bridge parties, as our neighbors do, because we like our kind of fun better.

Our trips cost money. Of course they do. But I'll wager we don't spend any more on them than a lot of couples spend in their way of keeping up with the crowd. We both work hard during the week. Besides my housework, I do all my husband's office work. We more or less live for our week ends, and what chummy, grand times we have then. People think we are crazy. They'd think us crazier yet if they knew all we did. Last summer, we spent one week-end picking fruit for a farmer, at so much an hour. Another time we stopped in a little town where a village baseball game was in progress. My husband went in and pitched and made such a hit that we returned for five Sunday games. Once we parked our car in a village and went tramping for two days, actally sleeping in a haystack.

Do you think we should "grow up," and "settle down" or that we will meet with sure ruination? — DINTY.

A. I think you're "simply swell," and believe there would be a lot more happier couples if they dared follow their original ideas of living instead of herding with the mob.

Don't let your critcs cramp your style. They may have no understanding of your ways, or they may be jealous of your true companionship with your husband. What ever their motives, don't let them affect your life, but live it just exactly as you and your husband wish to live it.

Fight It Out.

Dear Minerva: I entered college this fall and am at a loss to know what to do. I was ranked as a good athlete in my high school days, went in for everything, but due to an injury I received last winter can't do anything strenuous in the the athletic line. I know you don't go to school for athletics alone. But I've concentrated on sports for so long that I don't know anything else to do outside of routine school work. It looks like I can't stand it to be left out of everything. I don't want to be a quitter and disappoint my folks.. I know the need of education. But I'm in the dumps for certain. Do you think it would help if I'd stay out of school and work for a year until I get over this disappointment?—JOE.

A.—I think you' better fight it out right now, instead of postponing the struggle for a year. Chances are, if you'd quit now, you'd never return to school. It will take time to change your habits, but you can do it. You will have some time for mental concentration and can gradually shift your enthusiasm for competitive thrill along this line—in dramatics, or debating perhaps. Don't let yourself be doomed by self pity. School athletics are thrilling and important, but they are but one phase of life. Since you've been cut off, in an untimely fashion, from this phase, you will have to find a substitue. Keep your body fit and trim, through such exercises as you can take, then seek your outlet through mental fields. Apply the old fighting spirit to your problems, just as you tackled football in the old days, with a resolve to win despite all obstacles.

Correct this sentence: "Any man who wore a uniform," said the vet leader, "deserves more than other citizens."

WHEAT CONTRACT SIGNING BEGINS

Allotment Setup In 29 Nebraska Counties Is Approved.

Twenty-nine Nebraska counties have now been approved at the state wheat administration office and given permission to start signing wheat contracts, W. H. Brokaw announced Tuesday morning. One o fthe number Otoe, has mailed contracts to Washington and several other counties are about ready to do so.

The list of approved counties as given out by Brokaw include Otoe, Gage, Douglas, Stanton, Harlan, Nemaha, Fillmore, Saline, Wayne, Dodge, Colfax, Lancaster, Hall, Pawnee, Cedar, Pierce, Antelope, Knox, Dakota, Butler, Johnson, Holt, Burt, Seward, Merrick, Cass, Boyd, Thurston and Gosper.

A. E. Anderson, state and federal statistician and Ralph Cole of the agricultural college extension service are going over the work sheet summaries submitted by allotment committees in the respective counties. In some cases it is necessary to send them back for more complete information or for corrections, but in most instances county allotment committees have done their work in a very satisfactory manner, officials say.

Every attempt is being made, Cole and Anderson said Tuesday morning, to get every county's figures in perfect condition so that less delay will arise in Washington when the contracts are mailed to the wheat section there for approval and to get the checks. Out in the state many counties are holding contract signing days while others are referring their contracts back to the community committeemen who are arranging for their neighbors to sign up the final contract blanks as soon as possible.

OCTOBER DEFICIT IS 176 MILLIONS

Emergency Relief Expenditures for Month Total $13,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Interest payments on the public debt, coupled with accelerated spending for emergency relief purposes, has established a treasury deficit of $176,000,000 thus far for the month up to October 21.

Today's daily treasury statement, as of October 21, reveals that interest paid out this month amounted to $122,000,000 compared with total disbursements of $205,000,000 for this fiscal year.

Emergency relief expenditures for public works have amounted to $13,000,000 this month, compared with $85,000,000 for the fiscal year. In like manner, expenditures for the agricultural adjustment administration amounted to $7,700,000, compared with $16,000,000 for the year; $15,000,000 for farm credit administration, or exactly half the amount expended during the fiscal year; $18,000,000 for the conservative corps, compared wiht $86,000,000 for the year, while $5,000,000 has been disbursed this month as paid in surplus to the federal land bank.

Differ on Choice of Names

The assertion of Joan Blondell, screen star, that she wishes to be known and billed as Joan Barnes, the name she acquired by marrying George Barnes, movie cameraman, not only shatters a Hollywood tradition but is a radical departure from the modern trend, which is for woman to retain her individuality and maiden name after marriage. Since Lucy Stone, famous reformer of the last century, started the fad, many celebrated women have followed suit. A notable example is Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor in the Roosevelt cabinet, who in private life is Mrs. Paul Wilson. Another is Dorothy Thompson, novelist, who has kept her maiden name through two marriages. She is Mrs. Sinclair Lewis, wife of the author.

SAYS NEBRASKA IS BACK OF NRA

Metcalfe Tells of Conditions Among People Of State.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — (AP) — Richard L. Metcalfe, in charge of NRA organization in Nebraska, told newspapermen today the people of his state are behind the recovery administration despite "misinterpretation of sentiment," as a result of the threatened resignation of Keith Neville, chairman of the Nebraska recovery board.

Many farmers, resentful of low agricultural prices, Metcalfe said, showed disinclination to sign consumers' pledge cards because they blamed the NRA for increased prices on products they had to buy. He predicted that with a rise in farm commodity prices, that resentment would disappear.

Meanwhile, he said, his preliminary reports showed that wages in the state already have been increased by more than eight million dollars annually by the NRA.

"Neville is a good man," he said, "and I have no doubt he had his reasons for resigning. I don't know what they were but I hope he will reconsider. However, there are a thousand men who could be put in his place and the NRA will succeed in Nebraska."

Metcalfe said the exemption of employers of five or less persons from provisions of the retail code would have a helpful effect in small communties of the midwest.

"I wish the president had made it 10," he said, "but five is good."

Interested In Silver.

Metcalfe expressed hope the president would do something for silver as he did for gold, pointing out the close relationship between silver prices and prices of farm commodities.

"Why, you can't say a kind word for silver that doesn't help the farmers," he commented.

He said he believed one weakness of the NRA organization in Nebraska was the failure to knit all units into one compact organization. In Nebraska, he said there were nine able men on the state recovery board, "with nothing for them to do."

Lincoln Raid Nets Over Gallon of—Tea

Homer Greer of the county sheriff's office and Detective Cliff McCurdy made a "raid" Tuesday morning.

Greer got a call from a Lincoln man who said two of his roomers had "a lot of liquor ditched in their room," and he wanted them them to come and get it?.

Greer and McCurdy got the "liquor" all right and it looked real as life as it sparkled against the sides of the gallon jug and pint hip bottle in which it was hidden under the bed.

The roomers were out, so to police headquarters with their "haul" went Detective McCurdy and Deputy Sheriff Greer. There they discovered their "liquor" to be a gallon and a pint of tea.

Ask Lower Rates On Shipments Of Horses and Mules

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 —(AP)— The Grand Island Livestock company and ten affiliated concerns today asked the interstate commerce commission to adjust downwards its rates for transporting horses and mules throughout the southwest and far midwest. They ask $5,000 reparation for alleged overcharges.

BOMB WRECKS BEAUTY SHOP

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(AP)—A black powder bomb exploded and partially wrecked a new beauty shop its owner had planned to open today several miles from where a senate subcommittee is conducting hearings on how to curb crime and racketeering. Solomon Natis, owner of the shop, said a man, representing himself as an agent of a plumbers' union visited him yesterday and ordered him to replace a plumber who was installing fixtures in the place. Natis told police he refused on the ground that the plumber already on the job was a union man.

Large Lincoln Audience Enjoys Brilliant Organ Recital By Dupre

Nine hundred people filled the auditorium and the balcony of the First-Plymouth Congregational church Monday evening to hear Marcel Dupre, French master of the organ, in concert.

Part of Dupre's charm lies in his poise, and in the absolute ease with which he manipulates the manuals and pedals. He seems to neither strive nor struggle for the effects he gains, but completes them perfectly.

Plays Varied Program.

He opened the program with the Sinfonia from Cantata No. 29, Bach, and closed it with Cesar Franck's "Choral in A minor." In between were a variety of numbers, some of them brilliant, almost to the point of harshness, and others exquisitely delicate.

There were divided opinions concerning the second number on the program, Fragments from "The Stations of the Cross," written by Dupre. It was a masterpiece in a descriptive sense, beautifully done, but it did not entirely please all of the audience.

The two outstanding numbers from the standpoint of the laymen were Cesar Franck's, Symphonic Interlude from "Redemption," and the Scherzo from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Dupre's program was interesting acadmically as well as being technically and emotionally satisfying.

Hear Improvisation.

A curious audience listened to what he could do in the way of extemporaneous improvisation with two themes given him at the close of the concert. They were Wilbur Chenoweth's "Marche Triumphant," and "Bouree and Musette," the latter composed by Chenoweth the past summer. Dupre welded the two into a magnificent ensemble of vigor and beauty.

As an encore to this, the master did the same with the Star Spangled Banner and the Marseillaise, a rousing climax to a superb program. The Choral in A minor, by Franck, was a last and well chosen encore.

The program follows:

Sinfonia from Cantata No. 29, J. S. Bach.
Fragments from "The Stations of the Cross," (op. 29) Marcel Dupre.
Concerto in G Minor, No. 3, Hande.
Cantabile from 7th Symphony, Chas. M. Widor.
Fantasie (dedicated to Marcel Dupre), Frank S. Adams.
Symphonic Interlude from "Redemption," Cesar Franck.
Scherzo from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Mendessohn
Finale from Choral Symphony in D Minor, Arthur W. Foister.
Souvenir (dedicated to the memory of Lynnwood Farnam), Marcel Dupre.
Carillon (dedicated to Frederick Mayer), Marcel Dupre.
Improvisation on a Submitted Theme.

Disarmament Conference Adjournment Should Be Limited, Davis Asserts

GENEVA, Oct. 24—(AP)—Norman H. Davis, head of the American delegation to the disarmament conference, recommended to Sir Arthur Henderson today that any adjournment of the parley should be limited.

Disarmament should not be dropped, Davis told the British representative, who also is head of the conference, now in recess until October 26.

Want To Look Young?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Advertisement.

MRS. LINDBERGH IS HOMESICK TO SEE HER BABY

CALWAY, Irish free state, Oct. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh is getting homesic.

"I'm terribly anxious," said the wife of the famous American airman atfer their hop from Southhampton, England, "to see my baby. . . ."

"Yes, I'll be glad to be back home again."

She insisted, howeevr, the long trip with her husband has not been tiresome and she said she considered Ireland one o fthe most delightful lands over which they have flown.

But perhaps there was a reason: The westerly part of England, Colonel Lindbergh pointed out to his wife, gave him his first sight of land after his historic lone Atlantic crossing years ago.

Even the quiet-mannered colonel confessed seeing the land again gave him a "thrill of Pleasure."

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh will fly to Scotland after their aerial survey of the northern coast of Ireland, it was learned today.

GERMANY INTENDS AMERICANS SHALL NOT BE ATTACKED

BERLIN, Oct. 24—(AP)—Secret instructions issued by the Prussian ministry of interior indicate that the government meant business when it assured United States Ambassador William E. Dodd everything would be done to prevent any molestations of Americans.

These instructions were issued, it became known today, after Dodd's request to the government to enjoin provincial governors district governors, police chiefs and the secret police to "issue unmistakeable orders to subalterns to vouchsafe the necessary protection in every respect to foreign subjects and if the police interference be necessary, to proceed with special restraint, caution and politeness."

The instructions further make it obligatory upon local officials to keep in contact with Nazi political as well as storm troops and steel helmet headquarters "with a view to enabling them also to prevent further incidents."

Phelps County Cuts $79,000 From Taxes

A cool $79,000 was lopped off the tax burdens of Phelps county citizens this year as the result of reductions made all along the line in valuations and levies. The report made by its county clerk to the state tax commissioner shows that in every division the taxes are substantially lower this year.

County taxes charged on the books amount to $47,596, a decrease of $17,000; school taxes, $142,680, a decrease of $23,000; municipal taxes, $45,690, a decrease of $5,495; township taxes, $13,837, a decrease of nearly $22,000; and state taxes, $40,052, a decrease of $9,300.

NUCKOLLS TAXES CUT.

Nuckolls county taxpayers were given a reduction of nearly $44,000 in their contributions for governmental costs, under levies made this year. Regular taxes for all purposes, as reported to State Tax Commissioner Smith, total 355,985. School taxes were cut $24,600; county taxes are $7,500 lower; and municipal levies are off about $700 from last year. The rest of the saving made is in state tax.

Jangled nerves can make married life miserable

In so many cases it's not the big, important things that make married life unhappy. It's the little sharp words... the bickering . . . the nagging . . . the jangled nerves.

And the dangerous thing is that we frequently don't even realize that our nerves are upset until it is too late.

The more alive you are, the more high-strung, the more carefully you must watch yourself.

FUEL FOR FLAMES.

ONE of the arguments seized upon by those interested in the farm holiday movement, reports drifting into Lincoln indicate, is that wheat allotment checks, promised to be in the hands of the farmers by September 15, have not been received. It is claimed by those making use of that statement that the wheat growers of Oregon, Washington, and four counties in Kansas have received the payment promised them by the government under the Wallace crop reduction program. As to the accuracy of this information, the Star is not in a position either to affirm or deny it.

At the best, it is a matter of detail. No farmer doubts that his government will keep its contract with him, and while there would be temporary inconvenience in the event that the wheat grower had made definite plans with reference to the money, ultimately it will be forthcoming, and will be paid in full. The government of the United States does not repudiate its obligations.. If there has been delay, it is because of the enormity of the task confronting workers on the staffs in Washington. A country as large, as thickly populated, as diverse in its interests—coupled with a program as far reaching in its scope as the administration's plans are, involve routine labors beyond the imagination of the average individual, engrossed as he is at this time with his own troubles.

In the hope of directing attention to a situation which is reputed to be employed by farm holiday organizers, the Star has forwarded to Washington the information that the claim is being made that wheat allotment checks have not been received at the time they were promised. To this, it has added a plea that consideration be given to the subject of farm land appraisals which furnish the basis for refinancing of the loans which constitute the burden of indebtedness bearing down at this time to produce a state of uncertainty between debtor and creditor, and to nullify in a large measure other factors which would go to stimulate purchasing power. For the debtor, although he may find a temporary harbor under the moratorium, is faced with too much uncertainty as to his ultimate fate, to spend as freely as he would if he possessed the knowledge that his debt had been refinanced at a low interest rate and he were free to make his plans for the next five years. And the creditor, filled with uncertainty as to the ultimate outcome of his indebtedness, likewise is not in a frame of mind to supply that punch to a buying campaign which is a vital part of the gallant effort which President Roosevelt is making to overcome the tides of depression.

It is urgent that appraisal values shall be as generous, as high as common sense and as economic wisdom will permit. Present day conditions cannot be the sole measure, unless it is conceded that what prevails now will continue indefinitely throughout the next four or five years. This newspaper does not take that view. It has unlimited faith in the president and in his ability to lead the nation out of this mess. It recognizes that Mr. Roosevelt takes no exception to what might be described as criticism, so long as that criticism has an actual foundation, is made sanely and temperately, to the proper authorities and with constructive purposes in mind. The agitation now being developed through the farm holiday movement does not fall within that classification. It says that what has been done is futile. This newspaper says that what has been done merits the right to be tested thoroughly. This newspaper says that the leadership of the president has been heartening and inspiring and that it merits the utmost confidence and the utmost co-operation.

Once again, it should be remembered that in the infinite variety of detail, that in the gigantic character of the task undertaken, that in the multitudinous objectives that are being sought at one and the same time, there is the need for patience and for united support to the end that success will follow. Obstruction which has nothing else in mind will not help. There is this tragic comment upon the tactics now developing under the Milo Reno leadership in the revived farm holiday movement. In its final effects, it will aggravate the conditions of those it seeks to help. Mr. Reno suggests he is seeking parity between urban and rural populations. Does he not know that the processing taxes levied upon food products will take money out of the pockets of peoples in the larger cities and place it in the wallets of farmers? The farmer does have a sympathetic friend in the White House who is devoting all of his energy and all of his thought toward improving the desperate conditions confronting the American people, and that embraces all clases.

THE RIGHT WOMAN ON THE JOB.

SUPT. LENA M. WARD of the Nebraska training school for girls at Geneva ought to feel highly pleased at the compliment paid her administration of the institution by two of its youthful charges who, in filing out parole application blanks addressed to the state pardon board, wrote thereon that they would prefer to remain at the school rather than be released at this time.

Such an attitude on the part of inmates of a place of detention is very unusual. It is about the strongest tribute that could be paid to the management of the institution. In the case of the Geneva training school, the testimonial given by the two girls who don't want to leave it is well deserved. Miss Ward has a record of long, faithful, and efficient service there and at the Milford industrial home for women, which she formerly supervised. Her humane and sympathetic methods at both places have won the confidence and affection of those for whose benefit the state maintains and operates them.

The Geneva training school is conducted, so far as possible in such an establishment, as a real home for girls who are there because they did not have the proper home environment and influences. A former public school teacher, Miss Ward possesses a good understanding of the psychology of girls in their teens and knows the best ways to approach them and win their regard.

Her success has no doubt been due as much to the fact that she takes a motherly interest in her charges as in seeing that they are properly fed and clothed, treated considerately, and given opportunities for self-improvement through education and training for useful occupations.

It is more than happenstance that no serious irregularities or troubles have occurred at Geneva in recent years. The state is fortunate in having a woman of such high calibre at the head of the institution.

WHAT JONES SAID.

THE fact that next Friday has been designated Navy day doesn't mean a great deal to people in this part of the country where comparatively few have ever seen a naval vessel. It may, however recall to mind one of the most famous naval battles in the history of this country and the words used on that occasion by Capt. John Paul Jones, who is frequently referred to as the "father of the American navy."

It was on Sept. 23, 1779, that Jones in his flagship Bonhomme Richard, encountered the British Serapis in the North sea within sight of the English coast. The battle did not begin until an hour after sunset and continued for three and a half hours with no light but that afforded by the moon. During a lull in the fighting the British commander hailed Jones and asked if he surrendered. It was the reply of the latter to this query that had almost as much to do with making him famous as did the great victory which he won. It was:

"I have not yet begun to fight."

Some time later the Serapis surrendered, while the Bonhomme Richard was so badly damaged that it sank at sea the next day. Jones had in the meantime transferred his flag and crew to the captured ship.

The answer of the great captain seems peculiarly apt at this time when the spirit of defeatism has taken possession of what is happily a small minority of the people of the country. To these faint hearted ones, the great commander in the White House has said in effect:

"I have not yet begun to fight."

And he bids his countrymen to have faith and courage, assuring them that the battle will be fought to a finish and that victory is certain to crown their efforts. John Paul Jones gave to his country a splendid victory, but he gave it more than that. He inspired men to never say die; to fight on and on and on. That is the spirit of Roosevelt, it is the spirit of America, and while it prevails there can be no such thing as defeat.

PETER VAN FLEET.

PETER VAN FLEET, whose death occurred late Monday evening, was a remarkable Nebraska pioneer.

He came to Nebraska three years in advance of the admission of the territory to statehood, when less than 100,000 people lived here. He was a boy of seventeen then, filling the double role of school teacher and circuit rider, and in the latter ministering to the spiritual needs while training the young along educational lines.

It was his rare experience to witness Nebraska grow from a territory of approximately 65,000 people in 1864 to 1,300,000 in 1933. There was this peculiarity in Nebraska development. Throughout the run of years, there has been nothing of a mushroom character in it. The ghost towns of mining sections never served to augment population growth here. Cities did not spring up overnight and towns did not move forward by leaps and bounds.. Where soil constituted the sole resource, where people had to look to it for their livelihood, where growing seasons last so long, and no longer, development naturally was well spaced, consistent, and steady.

Those physical facts found reflection in Nebraska thought to produce a distinctive type within the state. If there is independent thinking here, and if that quality has characterized thought in Nebraska, the circumstances of living in a strictly rural atmosphere account for it. Dr. Van Fleet lived gloriously adventuresome days and performed a very necessary and a very important service. Throughout his life, he was forward looking and forward thinking. He lived a rich life to a ripe old age, marked by kindness and consideration, and by charitable and philanthropic instincts. He lived a good life.

GANG PRACTICES.

AN IMPENETRABLE secrecy characterizes gangland whenever the government undertakes to inquire into its affairs.. In Chicago, a coroner's jury of prominent citizens investigating the shooting of the gang chief, Gus Winkler, had to be content with a complete lack of information on the part of those brought before it.

The explanation may be found in gangland methods and practices. Any witness who values his skin better had remain silent. The great difficulty which law has had to deal with has been the force of intimidation exercised by criminal gangs. Once in the organization, there is no retreat. Winkler in the last months of his life realized it.. He wanted desperately to get out, so it is said, but there was no backing away, unless he wanted a dose of hot lead. He had been involved too closely with gang operations to walk around loose, with the possibility that a softening conscience might untangle his tongue.

Winkler's death was planned and executed by an organized gang. The facts surrounding it must be known to a band of men, but the task of uncovering the evidence is a great one, notwithstanding the tottering structure of gangland.

If anything is to be read into the report that Winkler's wife was found in a gas-filled room, aside from the possibility that it was accidental, there is the reminder that gangland fears her, too. The wives of these gang leaders face a deadly peril, due to the inexorable rule of the underworld that all avenues through which information might pass must be closed.

MR. WALLACE AND THE BEET FARMERS.

GIVING all due credit to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for sincerity of purpose in his efforts to get agriculture back upon a profitable basis, it is questionable whether he shows good judgment in proposing to apply a processing tax on beet sugar to reimburse growers who agree to limit their acreages of beets.

There is no surplus production of sugar in this country, as there is of corn, wheat, cotton, meats, and other farm commodities; hence, no need for restricting the tonnage of beets raised for the domestic market in order to keep the price up. The United States still imports three-fourths of all the sugar consumed by its people. Beet sugar production could be doubled and still the country would need an equal quantity from outside.

Secretary Wallace turned down the agreement which all branches of the domestic sugar industry had signed, on the ground that while it might benefit beet growers it would raise the cost of sugar to all other farmers.

If that was a good and valid reason for rejecting the sugar quota plan, the same objection can be raised to the processing tax on beets, which all consumers, including farmers, will have to pay.

There is really no need of the government's collecting a tax on sugar in order to pay beet growers a bonus. The latter can produce their crop now on a profitable basis, and if Uncle Sam will just prevent their market being flooded with too much foreign sugar they can continue to do so.

New York interests that have invested huge sums of money in Cuban sugar plantations and refineries, of course, want the doors thrown wide open so they can bring in unlimited quantities of the cheap commodity produced with peon labor.. Secretary Wallace can do the western beet growers a better turn by blocking that game than by resorting to the intricacies of a processing tax in order to curtail sugar production at home.

QUESTION.
Fort Wayne, Ind.
Why is it that millions of us stick to habits which science has shown are hurtful?

ANSWER.

Because our habits are fetters forged by long custom which in the majority of instances are well nigh obtained the force of a hereditary law. The headway gained by the spread of scientific knowledge is considerable, but popular prejudice is still strong and ignorance adds to its strength. Medicine in particular illustrates this sorry propensity. The amount of suffering and disease which could be avoided is simply immense, yet so long as obstinate quack remedies cannot be exterminated the distress they do not alleviate will continue.

The cure for such misdirection lies not so much in greater respect for science as in a far wider understanding of its methods. When children are educated to be more accurate in their acquaintance with facts, and to carefully distinguish between those facts and mere assumptions, the "rule of thumb" will be repudiated and individual and social losses correspondingly diminished. It is notable that patent "curealls" usually sell well in backward communities. The actual results demonstrate their utter ineffectiveness, but so long as a judicious admixture of stimulants artificially exhilarates the patient he or she proclaims the virtues of that particular nostrum. There is a big gap between what the well trained doctor knows and what the average invalid practices. It is the constant effort of the medical profession to bridge that gap. That attempt should be backed up by every pastor, parent and teacher in the land.

QUESTION.
When a man falls into grievous sin and truly repents of it he can believe that God will forgive him. But can he ever forgive himself? This is my case and it causes me to live in a hell of constant self-condemnation.

ANSWER.

We are encouraged to believe that self-forgiveness is a consequence of Divine forgiveness by the following Scripture: "For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God" (1 John III:20).

Here the Apostle plainly teaches that your misery is due to your unfaith. If you absolutely trusted your Heavenly Father for forgiveness and restoration, you could not remain in "A hell of constant self condemnation."

"My God is reconciled,
His pardoning voice I hear.
He owns me for His child,
I can no longer fear.
With confidence I now draw nigh,
And Father! Abba! Father cry."

Such has been the witness of believers in every age and it should be yours.

What your Creator can afford to forgive you can afford to forget, or if you recall it at all you should do so with humility and for your admonition, not for your despair. So spend no more precious time and energy brooding over an irrevocable past which is buried in the ocean of the Lord's mercy. Accept your restoration on His terms without trying to qualify them to your own hurt. Then face tomorrow in the strength, the confidence and the gladness of a believing man who has passed from death unto life.

QUESTION
Buffalo, N. Y.
What are the chief benefits of church attendance?

ANSWER.

It is a weekly bath for the soul after its contacts with six days of worry and work. It reminds us that religion covers the whole of life and that the worship of the God of our being can never consist of isolated acts, but must be the united expression of a permanent outlook and a constant need. It enables us to realize that the chief end of a man is to glorify his Creator and that its fulfilment depends on his consecration of all he is and has to Him.

Those who "forget not the assembling of themselves together" will be the readier to adore the Author of their redemption in their daily routine as well as during specified periods of worship. They feel the necessity of pooling their spiritual interests by combining for confession, praise, prayer and meditation. Public worship therefore renders a premier social service in discovering stimulating and unifying our spiritual aspirations, and offsetting the constant drift toward sheer materialism and its consequent evils.

Jesus insisted that God can only be adored in spirit and in truth and that the beauty of holiness in thought and deed becomes His sanctuary. Hence the conduct of worship is a most difficult and responsible task. It requires the highest gifts both of imagination and devotion in order to foster such a vivid apprehension of the Divine Presence as enlightens and succors all who thus wait on the Lord.

Its aim is to bring the souls of men and women into actual communion with their Heavenly Father, and it fulfils its functions best when the veil between Him and them is at its thinnest. For God is not an absentee Deity. On the contrary He awaits us in the sacred places appointed for His honor and our welfare. And those who sincerely worship Him there are fortified in themselves to resume their daily course.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

BODY LIKENED TO MACHINE, NEEDING ENERGY TO RUN IT.

"The favorable nature of recent hospital statistics," writes Doctor Elliot Joslin, in "A Diabetic Manual" (published by Lea and Febiger), "demonstrates that the opportunity for further improvement in the treatment of diabetes lies not in the hospital, but in the home. To this end a campaign must be aggressively waged. If the mortality can be reduced nearly to zero in the hospital, these same results ought to be attained outside the hospital, for there is no reason why the methods which have made hospital treatment safe should not be employed in making treatment in the home safe.

Dr. Clendening

This means that diabetics and potential diabetics (by potential diabetics I mean those who have the disease but do not recognize the nature or importance of the symptoms, or who are afraid to seek medical advice for fear of hearing bad news), must understand the nature of the disease and the logic of the modern method of its treatment.

Diabetes may attack people of all ages. It is not, as many people think, a kidney disease, but a disease of the starch-utilizing functions of the body. We are machines, and like all other machines we need energy to keep running. Like other machines, too, our energy comes from burning fuel. The word "burning" may seem strange to you, and you may wish to argue that we do not burn anything because we do not get heated up. But we do. We maintain a body heat of 98½ degrees Fahrenheit, which is a long way above freezing.

Our fuel is food. We burn it in the body just as an automobile burns gasoline, or an engine coal, and in the same way—by union with oxygen in the air. Our combustion is slower, more even than an automobile's or a steam engine's, and more continuous, but essentially it is just the same. The power released by this chemical process of oxygenation is converted into muscular energy. When you move your arm you are releasing the energy formed by the oxygenation of food.

All foods are burned in the body to form energy. But the bulk comes from the carbohydrates. We eat nearly twice as much carbohydrate as all the other foods. Carbohydrates are starches and sugars. Vegetables and fruits are mostly carbohydrate. Bread, milk, table sugar, honey, molasses, crackers, etc., are other sources of carbohydrate fuel.

All starches and sugars are turned into a very simple sugar, glucose, in the body, and all carbohydrate energy comes from burning this glucose. In converting the more complex carbohydrates into glucose, the digestive juices and the liver are active.

Glucose is brought to the muscles when needed, and these unite with oxygen to release energy. But, just as gasoline and oxygen in the carburetor of your automobile need a spark to make them unite, some such spark is needed in the muscle. That spark is the secretion thrown into the blood stream by certain cells in the pancreas.

This secretion is called insulin. The only way in which a diabetic differs from a normal person is in not having enough of this secretion. When insulin is diminished in the body, the glucose is not burned in the muscle. Hence it accumulates in the blood and is excreted by the kidneys. This excess of glucose in the blood makes the patient thirsty. Besides these symptoms of thirst and excessive urination, the other cardinal symptoms of diabetes—loss of weight and weakness—are easy to understand.

Just Folks

BOOKS.

Upon my shelf they stand in rows.
A city-full of human souls,
Sages, philosophers and drolls—
Good friends that everybody knows.
The drunkard shoulders with the saint;
The great are neighboring with the quaint
And they will greet me one and all
At any hour I care to call.

There's Dickens with his humble crew
That has no end of joy to give.
With all his people I can live
By moving just a foot or two.
Or should I choose to sail the sea,
Stevenson there will pilot me.
While jovial, lovable Mark Twain
Waits patiently my call again.

Sometimes a friend drops in and looks
My little sitting room around
And, in a manner most profound,
Remarks: "Your shelves are lined with books!"
"Not books," I say, "but people wise
And men to cling to or despise.
Vast peopled cities, calm and still,
For me to visit when I will."

Temperance is a virtue, but alas! the accelerator doesn't seem to know you are just a temperate drinker.

Fable: Once a boy won an oratorical contest and didn't decide to be a lawyer.

You can tell when there's a bear market. Rural communities again denounce stock buying as gambling.

Correct this sentence: "Yes, I had taken a few drinks," said the man, "but that didn't affect my driving."

Peter Prepares To Be Thrifty

On preparation much depends
If you would gain desired ends.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit had made up his mind to be thrifty. He had told Mrs. Peter so. She had said that that would be fine, but Peter had a feeling that down inside she was laughing at him.

"Just how are you going to be thrifty?" she inquired.

"Just the same way other people are," retorted Peter. "There is plenty of good food now. I am going to cut enought to last us all winter."

"You'll have to work hard to do all that," ventured Mrs. Peter.

"What of it?" demanded Peter. "What of it? I'll have all winter to loaf in, and never have to worry about where the next meal is coming from."

"When will you begin?" asked Mrs. Peter.

"Right now," replied Peter. "Anyway, right after I have had a nap," he added rather lamely.

Mrs. Peter chuckled, but she took good care that Peter didn't hear her. "That is right," said she. "By all means have a nap. You want to be rested and fresh when you start in to work."

She hopped away to the other side of the dear Old Briar-patch and Peter settled himself comfortably for a nap. It was a long nap. He dreamed of great piles of grasses and sweet clover and other good things. When he awoke he hunted up little Mrs. Peter.

"My dear," said he, "where do you think we should store our winter supply of food?"

"Don't ask me," she replied. "I never have had a winter supply stored. So I don't know about such things."

"It should be here in the dear Old Briar-patch," said Peter. "I'll look around and pick out a place. Then I am going out to look around for the best places to cut clover and tender grasses, and I think I'll run over to Farmer Brown's garden to look over the carrots and turnips and cabbages. There is nothing like proper preparation before beginning work. I don't want to waste time looking for things after the harvest begins. I want to know just where the best things are."

So off Peter went. He visited this clover patch and sampled the clover. He hopped over to that clover patch and sampled that. He couldn't decide which was the best. So he went back to the first one and tried that again. He did the same thing with several other patches, and by the time he was through he had eaten so much that he felt like resting. Back to the dear Old Briar-patch he went and settled down to doze again. There Mrs. Peter found him.

He dreamed of great piles of grasses and sweet clover.

"Well," said she, "I suppose your are all ready to begin work tomorrow."

"Not quite," replied Peter drowsily. "I haven't decided yet which clover to cut first."

The next day Peter started out again, and once more he ran here and he ran there, sampling the clover and grasses. Sammy Jay happened along.

"Hello, Peter!" cried Sammy. "Why all this running about?"

"Can't you see I'm busy? demanded Peter.

"You always are busy when there is anything to eat,' retorted Sammy. "But usually you are too lazy to run about so much."

"I am preparing for winter," replied Peter gravely.

Sammy Jay stared at Peter. "You are what?" he asked, as if he doubted that he had understood correctly.

"I am preparing for winter," repeated Peter. "That is," he added, "just now I am preparing to prepare."

Muny Gas Again.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 21.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: One reads with awe the suggestion of local oil men that Muny gas prices be raised again—this time to aid the Salvation Army. Isn't that beautiful? It almost equals the offer of Artemus Ward, to sacrifice all of his wife's relatives to put down the cruel war.

I am sure it did not occur to them, so I make the further suggestion: Since some of them admittedly charge for gas more than the muny officials think fair, wouldn't it be lovely for them to contribute this overcharge to charity?

But, if in truth, all of this talk about relieving hardship and unemployment is but low grade bunk, if, in reality, their only grief is that folks buy muny gas, they can remedy their trouble over night. They need merely reduce their overcharge. Were the local oil men to meet muny prices, or even to come reasonably close, how many people would drive across town, or even a block, to get muny gas?

Indeed, a number of local gas stations now meet muny prices, to their great advantage. Further, I understand that the clearer headed oil men wish to adopt this course and to cultivate the public's friendship and good will. If short sighted members prevent such sensible action, why should not the city council stand pat?

The above statement is based, of course, on the representation that present muny prices are amply high to yield a legitimate profit to the average private dealer.

A. G. CHAPMAN.

Cross Currents In The News.

Seward, Neb., Oct. 19.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: I am a good deal like Will Rogers, about "all I know is what I read in the newspapers." In last night's Star I noticed quite a few interesting things.

For one, the heading "Treasury Issue Over-Subscribed About Fourfold." To me that doesn't seem very consistent with the daily woe I read, about everyone being financially down and out. I am wondering who has all this "dough" lying about waiting for use?

I note also that three towns that voted on bond issues to take care of unemployed in their respective communities have turned thumbs down on the proposition in each insatnce. I am wondering who did that and why? And what would have been the fate of the $3,300,000,000 appropriation of congress had the voters had a like chance?

The recent list published of the federal aid to the 48 states was enlightened too. Personally I'm rather proud of Nebraska's place in that list. I noticed Illinois, the state of unpaid teachers, the Capones and the Winklers and so on, heads the list.

Then there's the item telling of a statement made by Professor H. J. Gramlich of our Nebraska agricultural college that the government had bought a lot of canned meat from Argentina for use of the C. C. C. workers this winter. Seems funny the government is so worried about the plight and conditions of our own poor farmer friends and tries all sorts of things to raise prices and help them out and then when they have a chance to do the only sensible thing anyone can do to benefit them, buy their products, they turn a cold shoulder and go to Argentina.

I read lots of funny things like these every day. There is one thing they haven't tried yet. I am wondering what would happen if suddenly all official Washington should declare a holiday and go fishing for a spell and leave business, big and little and, yes, even the farmer, sail its own canoe without any interference or taxation except the ordinary kind that our founders used to carry on the affairs for which our government was originally created. I hope sometime it will be tried just to see what would happen.

Then it might be that if we followed these precepts as given in the Bible it wouldn't hure anything."

"Owe no man anything, but love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. And that, knowing the time, that now is high time to awake out of sleep; for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. The night is far spent, the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fullfil the lusts thereof." (Romans 13: 8, 10-14.)

DONALD F. LOGAN.

Distressed Citizens.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Is it any use for an old man to try to fight any longer against the traitors who have brought such a damnable system of slavery on the people of the United States that is not to be compared with the black slavery of prior to the Civil war, when able-bodied whites and blacks have to sell themselves to get a mess of pottage? What else can you call it?

Well do I remember just after the Civil war how mother struggled in vain to hold her helpless children together. They had just freed the black slaves of the south, but the foundation was laid during the struggle to make us all slaves to a devilish financial system that has almost destroyed all principle of true manhood. What hope has a man left?

I, for one, see nothing but poverty and despair. Allow me to try and explain. I went into a loan office in Lincoln the other day that is connected with the Home Loan bank of Topeka to see about making a small loan balance that will soon be due on my property. They informed me they had orders not to make any loans in the Lincoln suburbs and not to make a loan on a house unless it was strictly modern. If that is the truth, how many are going to be able to save their homes among the poor of Lincoln? A very few.

Can you expect a patriotic spirit among the people while these conditions last? What was the cause of these conditions? Allow me to quote from the address of Senator Henry M. Teller when he left the party that he helped found—the republican.

"I know and you know that men in distress are neither patriotic nor brave. You and I know that hunger and distress will destroy patriotism and love of country. If you have love of country, patriotic fervor and independence you must have your citizens comfortably fed and comfortably clothed. That is what made me a republican in 1853. That is what made me a republican all these years, because I believed that the republican party stood for the great masses of men; that its legislation was intended to lift up and elevate and hold up and sustain the unfortunate and the distressed and give all American citizens equal opportunities before the law.

"I do not believe that these blessings can be had with the gold standard. You may doubt my judgment and many of you will, but shall I doubt it? I must act on my judgment and not upon yours. I must answer to my conscience and not to my neighbors. I must do my duty as it is presented to me and not as presented to you. I say to you now that I must hasten my remarks, that with the solemn conviction upon me that this gold plank means ultimate disaster and distress to my fellow man.

"I cannot subscribe to it and if it is adopted I must, as an honest man, sever my connection with the political organization that makes that one of the main articles of its faith. And yet I cannot, before my country and my God, agree to that provision that shall put upon this country a gold standard and I will not. And I do not care what may be the result. If it takes me out of political life, I will go with a feel-

Village Of Snyder Sues For Deposit

Appeals to District Court From Ruling Of State Banking Department On Claim.

State Senator Hugo Srb of Dodge, who helped to get Governor Bryan's bank department reorganization bill through the legislature last spring, is the first lawyer in Nebraska to run up against one of its provisions.

Because the state banking administration, acting under authority of this act, rejected a claim by the Village of Snyder for $2,858 for reimbursement as a depositor in the defunct Farmers' & Merchants' bank of that place, Mr. Srb in the capacity of attorney for the village has the job of attempting to get this ruling changed through an appeal to the district court of Dodge county.

Unless he can do this the municipality of Snyder will be relegated to the class of general creditors of the bank, who must wait until the depositors are paid in full before their claims can be satisfied. As the assests will probably not be enough to cover 100 per cent of depositors' accounts, the village would thus be left holding the sack.

The money which the village of Snyder had in the bank was secured by a personal bond signed by several residents of the community. It is the view of the state banking department that the village should proceed against the bondsmen to recover the amount of the municipality's claim. Under the state banking laws, money held by a bank under special bond for its repayment is not counted in the deposits in case of failure.

Senators Srb will contend, however, on behalf of his client that the village's deposit was not "otherwise secured" within the legal definition, because no funds of the bank were used to pay premium on the personal bond and none of its assets was pledged to the sureties for their reimbursement, as would have been done in the case of a bonding company.

This is the first time the point has been raised since the passage of the new banking act, and the case will doubtless be fought up to the state Supreme court for a judicial interpretation as to when a deposit so made is "otherwise secured."

Cafe Permit For Mrs. Sward Favored

A permit to operate a cafe on her residential property at Fifty-sixth and O street, probably will be granted to Mrs. Mary Alice Sward, Mayor Fenton B. Fleming said Tuesday, after conferring with members of the city council who visited the property Monday. Mrs. Sward appealed to the council from a decision of the zoning board denying her a local business classification. The council, the mayor said, is opposed to classifying the property for business. To do so would open to similar classification several acres of land in the immediate vicinity which, it is believed should not be zoned now.

Mrs. Arthur C. Watkins Outlines Fight Against Lowering Education Standards.

Bouyant personality, and an encyclopedic knowledge of P. T. A. work, marked the national educational secretary, Mrs. Arthur C. Watkins who was a guest of the Lincoln group at a noon luncheon Tuesday. Mrs. Watkins spoke briefly on the plans of the national congress to enlist the cooperation of the state and local groups in a fight against lowering educational standards.

Mrs Watkins arrived in Lincoln Tuesday morning in the company of the state president, Mrs. Paul Bradley of Omaha at the end of a four day tour of the state which has taken her to Kearney, North Platte Omaha and Lincoln. While here she conferred with teacher's college authorities and with the state department to further the educational aspects of the organization.

Definite plans for a spring conference January 26 and 27 at teachers' college were made, and plans for a summer course at the university next year.

Mrs. Watkins will leave for her home in Washington, D. C. following a trip from here to the state convention at Des Moines, stops at Pittsburgh and New York. She returned from an eight weeks' tour of European countries with a group of high school students, September 15.

More Registrations Sought in Night Classes

Registration for night classes in trades and industrial training was opened Monday night at the high school. L. H. Alberty, director of vocational training in the schools, is in charge.

Although there was a fine registration Monday night, Mr. Alberty said there is still room for more students, and registration will be continued Tuesday and Wednesday nights, from 7 to 9 o'clock. The classes will be trained at the high school and in trade and industrial plants.

Subjects in which registrations can be made: Architectural drafting, blue print reading, building estimates, brick laying, heating, ventilating and air conditioning, refrigeration, internal combustion engines, mechanical drafting, show card writing, and lead wiping for plumbers.

DEPOSITOR SUIT ON TRIAL HERE

Patrons Charge Officers Old Eagle Bank Made Excessive Loans.

Based on alleged excess loans claimed to have been made by five officials of the old bank, a case in which depositors of the reorganized Bank of Eagle are seeking judgment for $26,863 against these former officials went on trial before a jury in District Judge Shepherd's court Tuesday.

The defendants are Homer K. Frantz, Albert F. Ackerman, Henry Snoke, George Trunkenbolz and Richard C. Wenzel. The case is brought by Raymond H. Walker, as special trustee for the bank's depositors.

Claim of the depositors, which is challenged by the defendants, is that the officials made excess loans on four separate occasions. The amount and persons to whom the loans are alleged to have been made are: August L. Francke and Alex F. Francke, $11,200; George L. Althouse, jr., $4,245; Charley Jacobsen, $3,838; Albert Wull, $891. The officials are alleged to have both made the loans in excess of a proper amount and to have accepted inadequate security. The judgment asked represents the total of these alleged excess loans plus interest.

Frantz and Ackerman have filed answers claiming that the contract under which the bank was reorganized specifically clears them from personal liability. They claim the agreement provided that all stockholders surrendering their stock could not be held later for a personal judgment in favor of the depositors. It is alleged that they have complied with the contract by giving up their stock.

Claim is also made by Frantz and Ackerman that security was adequate on the notes involved in the litigation. These notes are now owned by the depositors as part of the assets of the bank, one of the provisions for the reorganization of the bank being that the depositors were to accept all assets of the bank in lieu of 75 per cent of their original deposits. The remaining 25 per cent went to form a deposit in the reorganized bank. The old bank failed in October, 1929.

Snoke, Trunkenbolz and Wenzel have entered a special appearance in the case claiming they have no joint liability with Frantz and Ackerman. They also challenge the jurisdiction of the court on the matter of service obtained against them in the case.

Crew of Fifty Men Speeds Removal of O Street Car Rails

Upwards of fifty men were at work tearing out the streetcar rails on O street Tuesday, and had reached a point west of Twenty-sixth street. Besides the contractor, the city and the Lincoln Traction company, also have men on the job. The utility employes are carting the rails away as salvage, and the city employes are taking part of the sand and other waste materials to use in filling holes in dirt streets.

The contractor expects to start laying the concrete base for the paving within a few days. As the concrete must be allowed to set at least a week before the surfacing is put on, D. L. Erickson, city engineer, said today that he is "confident a contract can be awarded for resurfacing both sides of the thoroughfare between Eighth and Sixteenth street at the same time the surface is laid on the street car section.

When the city job is done there will be a binder laid, on top of which there will be a sheet of asphalt. Each will be 1½ inches thick. Resurfacing on brick has made the best paving Lincoln has, Erickson said.

FARM STRIKERS ASK EMBARGOES

Crocker Says Nebraskans Responding to Plans For Holiday.

Demands for embargoes by middiewestern governors against interstate shipments of farm products are rolling into farm holiday headquarters here, F. C. Crocker, state secretary, said today as he reported an enthusiastic response out in the state to holiday plans.

"Although the call for the farm strike has not yet been fully spread," Crocker said, "we are getting letters indicating the spirit with which it will be carried through."

He sad Henry Blome, Cheyenne county chairman, said everybody was talking of the holiday now and that John P. Goehring, Gage county farmer, urged embargoes with a statement that they might be unconstitutional but would "only be demanding justice."

Crocker said Lewis Jeppesen, Dakota county secretary, called every secretary, called every precinct and township to disseminate the strike call and that Ellis Davidson, Webster county secretary, said people were more interested than ever before. "We hard Roosevelt talk," Davidson wrote, "and it sounded like a Hoover speech."

Albert Hansen of Herman said sentiment was very much for the strike even among non-members who were agreeing to withold their products. He reported truck owners showed a willingness to stop their trucks and only awaited orders of state officers.

Men Not Themselves In Past Few Years

Dr. Walter Aitken Says That Nervous Strain Has Been Too Great For People.

Dr. Walter Aitken of St. Paul Methodist church addressed 135 members of Rotary club on "The Human Code" at their weekly meeting in the Lincoln hotel, Tuesday noon.

"The relation between friendship and government—intangible though it may seem," he told them, "is one of the finest relationships extant. It is this spiritual element of the relation of man to man which makes government possible."

Men during the past few years, Dr. Aitken said, have not been their former selves, due largely to the nervous strain under which we have all been laboring. As times improve and nervous equilibrium is recovered men will become more genial and happy again.

President Jess Pemberton announced to club members that Hugh Butler of Omaha, district governor, would be present at next week's meeting. W. H. Brokaw, in charge of arrangements for this month's meetings, introduced Dr. Aitken.

ROADS COSTING $25,000 PER DAY

Record Gas Tax Income Offset By Heavy Construction.

Although October promises to make a record as the banner month of 1933 for total receipts of gasoline tax by the state treasury, the cash balance in the state highway fund probably will be cut down somewhat during the month by heavy outgo to pay for work done on many federal emergency road projects now under construction.

With collections of gas tax so far aggregating over $780,000 for October, it looks now as though the July total of $787,830 will be equalled or exceeded when receipts for the coming week are added in. But expenditures from the fund up to and including Oct. 22 are over $635,000, and are continuing at an average rate of about $25,000 each week day, so that by the end of the month they may pass the $800,000 mark.

Two hundred or more claims against the gas tax fund were paid Tuesday for the gross sum of $26,728.

GUARANTY TESTS MOVING RAPIDLY

Examination of Nebraska State Banks Ahead of Application Rate.

Chief Examiner W. H. Donahue of the federal force now conducting examinations in Nebraska to determine the eligibility of state banks desiring admission to the national deposit insurance system when it is set up on January 1 expects to complete the work and get all the reports transmitted to Washington by December 1.

His men have already finished their investigations of 22 banks, while is one-third of the 66 so far applying for membership. The reports on these institutions have already been sent in to the national capial. Examinations are now being made faster than new applications come in.

Any other banks that wish to be examined for participation in the federal insurance benefits should forward their requests to Washington before the end of October, Mr. Donahue said Tuesday, so that sufficient time will remain for making the examinations after they are certified to him.

About 300 state banks, including 258 now operating without restrictions, have been listed by State Bank Superintendent Luikart as able to qualify for membership in the federal deposit insurance corporation; but it looks now as though not more than one-third of them will care to join.

Chief Examiner Donahue has six examiners and six helpers working now, with three more examiners subject to his call if they should be needed.

O'Gara Indicates He May Run for Congress

State Representative W. H. O'Gara of Laurel said at the capitol Tuesday many of his friends have been urging him to run for governor or congress.

He said he would not consider running for governor and was doing nothing to encourage support for a congressional campaign but might run if there was sufficient demand.

He said Rep. Frank J. Klopping of Wayne was awaiting announcement of his intentions. Klopping, another capitol visitor Tuesday, also has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor and congress.

Laundry Equipment Contracts Awarded

The board of control Tuesday awarded contracts to low bidders on more than $31,000 worth of laundry equipment and repairs at four state institutions. The Troy Laundry Machine company of East Moline, Ill., was low on equipment for the Lincoln state hospital with a bid of $14,705.35. The same company was low on equipment for the Hastings state hospital with a bid of $2,800 and also low on repairs for equipment already there with a bid of $287.25. The American Laundry Machine company of Chicago was low on equipment for the Lincoln reformatory with a bid of $7,173 and also got the contract for equipment at the Norfolk hospital with a low bid of $7,105.

Sooners Scheme Tie Knot In Huskers' String

Oklahoma Plotting to Smash Nebraska's "Big Six" Supremacy

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 24—(AP)—What Kansas State and Iowa State have failed to accomplish, the Oklahoma Sooners will seek to do this week-end—beat Nebraska, defending champion of the Big Six conference. It's a big assignment for Coach Lewie Hardage and his proteges, who share the top rung of the standing with the Huskers, but there are indications the Nebraskans will have as hard a scrap on their hands as they did against the Wildcats last week.

Performances Compared.

The Sooners turned in a 9 to 0 decision against Texas, beaten by the Huskers, 26 to 0, and against Iowa State the Sooners won, 19 to 7, which compares favorably with Nebraska's 20 to 0 verdict over the Cyclones.

Both contenders emerged from their last engagements with no serious injuries. Sauer, triple-threat back, and Parsons, reserve back, were Nebraska's only casualties, but both were expected to be in suit today. At Oklahoma, Bob Dunlap, quarter-back, and Jeff Coker, end, were nursing minor injuries, while "Cash" Gentry, big blocking tackle, is under a physician's care following recurrence of a foot infection.

Kaggies Meet Jayhawks.

Hard work was the order of the day at Kansas State and Kansas the two teams meet Saturday at Lawrence in the annual all-Kansas classic. Behind closed gates, Coach Bo McMillin experimented with shifts in his line to increase the offensive power. Attention was directed toward the covering of punts as the Jayhawkers sought to polish up some of the defects which appeared in the Tulsa game.

Both Missouri and Iowa State will be seeking their first conference victory in their clash Saturday at Ames, and Coach Frank Carideo regards the contest as the best chance the Tigers will have of entering the win column.

Missouri Captain Recovers.

Jay Faurot, reserve back, returned to duty yesterday, and Capt. Charles Schiele, end, is expected to be in good condition.

Injuries suffered in the Oklahoma game may rob Iowa State of some of its strength. Five regulars were injured, the most seriously hurt being Theophilus, fullback, and Lichter, center. The other injured regulars are Berger, tackle, and Winter and Williams, backs.

LARSON'S SPEED SAVES GOPHERS

Minnesota End Heads Off Touchdown Runs By Purdue, Pitt.

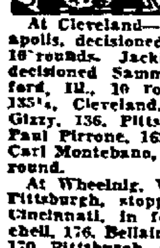

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24—(AP)—When Bernie Bierman, head football coach at Minnesota, decided two years ago that Fullback Butch Larson's speed would help make him a good end, he seems to have made more than a guess.

Larson, rated as the best end on the field Saturday when Minnesota upset Pittsburgh, has saved two touchdowns in the last two games.

In the Purdue game, he started with a five-yard handicap and pulled down Halfback Hecker on Minnesota's 31-yard line after the latter had intercepted a Minnesota pass and had dashed 30 yards with a clear field toward the goal.

Rooker, Pitt end, was on the way to a score, when Larson raced up from behind and grabbed him on Minnesota's 31-yard line after he had eluded everyone else.

The observers are giving Larson credit for holding Sebastian, Pitt half, and Purvis, Purdue half, to a net loss in the last two games.

NEBRASKA, I take it, should consider itself complimented by the remarks of Pacific coast commentators, who credit Lonnie Stiner with having introduced the "Nebraska system" at Oregon State college. It was, indeed, a gaudy plume for the former Cornhusker captain's bonnet when his Corvallis gladiators baffled Howard Jones' Trojans last Saturday, holding the enemy to a scoreless tie.

That "Nebraska system" reference may sound good to those in the Cornhusker camp who enjoy a bit of flattery, but, between you and me, the only distinctive system in effect at Nebraska that I ever observed was the Husker habit to play the game with fine spirit, tackle hard and, on frequent occasions, knock over teams of established class—as, for instance, Notre Dame.

As a matter of fact, the numerous changes of head coaches during the past 30 years have prevented the development of any so-called system by any one coach which might be rated as typical of Nebraska football.

MUCH of the talk on the subject of this or that system, devised by this or that coach, chiefly is idle chatter. Pop Warner unquestionably has been football's master mind in evolving an offensive which represented something that was both new and unique.

Pop was the inventor of the single and double wingback ideas, as well as the spinner, while the late Dr. Williams of Minnesota conceived the line shift and made it work while tutoring his husky Gopher teams.

During the past 10 years, the football public has been regaled with numerous yarns referring vaguely to the "Notre Dame system," although I take note that Jimmy Crowley, one of Knute Rockne's halfbacks of the "Four Horsemen" period, was quoted recently in New York to the effect that there were as many different "Notre Dame systems" as there were head coaches coming out of the South Bend institution. In other words, every one of Rockne's former pupils who is now a coach has a system peculiarly his own.

THEN there is the Michigan system, ironically described as "a punt, a pass and a prayer," but it appears that Kipke has abandoned his former methods, the answer being that he has uncovered an outfit of backs who can carry the ball, crashing an enemy's line after the fashion of the Hestons of former eras at the Ann Arbor school.

In the last analysis, the system which really counts is the one which stresses correct charging, blocking, tackling and other fundamental requirements, plus the knack of smart thinking in a pinch. Without these, no system is worth a tinker's cuss.

So it is that the far west folks may go right ahead with their line of talk that Stiner is using the "Nebraska system" at Corvallis, even though Lonnie himself might not savvy just what is meant. Meantime, I am sure all Cornhusker followers will join me in showering congratulations on the Oregon Aggie coach, another ex-Nebraskan who has made good on his job.

A PARTISAN writer for a Kansas City newspaper, whose evident purpose was to soft soap the Kansas public, particularly in the Manhattan region, contributed some comment on the recent Nebraska-Kansas Aggie battle which will at first amaze but eventually amuse Cornhusker adherents who viewed the proceedings at Manhattan.

The K. C. partisan broke into print with remarks such as:

"The summary of the struggle shows how evenly the teams were matched."

"The Wildcats lost to Nebraska, but there was little to choose between the two teams."

"As a matter of fact, the unbiased spectator probably would choose Graham, Russell, Stoner and Morgan (Aggie backs) to Sauer, Masterson, Boswell and Miller (Nebraska backs)."

And the Kansas City scribe made the soft-soaping racket complete by quoting Coach Bo McMillin as saying that a "single error of judgment smoothed the path for Nebraska," the inference, of course, being that the so-called "single error" was responsible for the Aggies' defeat.

AN AMUSING line of chatter by the Aggie partisan. It lacked only a pointblank denial that Nebraska won the ball game. However, I turn to the "summary" of the downs, yardage gains, etc., for a convincing story of Cornhusker supremacy.

The statistics, compiled by a competent Nebraska authority, disclose that the Biblemen accounted for 14 first downs, compared with only six by the Aggies. The total net yardage gained was 249 by the Huskers and 115 by the Men of McMillin.

Detailed notes disclose also that the Aggies on but one occasion advanced the ball to within scoring distance of the Nebraska, a single thrust which the Huskers successfully repulsed, while the Bible team five times was knocking at the touchdown door. They cashed in to the extent of one touchdown and converted one additional opportunity into a goal from the field.

The palpable effort by the Kansas City scrivener to belittle the Cornhuskers' victory makes it only too evident that Coach Bo and his Aggies had their hearts set on bagging the game, a scheme which somehow failed to work out. Meantime, Nebraska extends congratulations to the Aggies on waging a fine fight—and now will turn to the more important matter of preparing for Oklahoma U.

HUSKERS STRESS GOAL LINE DRIVE

Nebraska Squad Bent On Developing Punch That Makes Points.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Scoring punch is receiving major attention at Memorial stadium this week as Coach Dana X. Bible prepares the Cornhusker varsity for Saturday's game with the University of Oklahoma. The Huskers were given a rehearsal Monday of the plays concocted for use in the scoring zone and further test of these formations is scheduled for the final scrimmage of Wednesday, when the varsity and nubbins will mix on the stadium sod.

Last year at Norman, the Nebraska eleven, although winning, failed to produce anything in the nature of touchdowns. Last week a second scoring drive of the Huskers was halted on the Kansas State goal line. The varsity coaches therefore have needed little to convince the Scarlet gridders they must perfect their offense so that the machinery will not miss fire when the goal line is in sight.

All Hands In Readiness.

The entire varsity squad is expected to get in good shape for the Saturday invasion of the Sooners. Bud Parsons, the only casualty of the Wildcat encounter, was in sweat suit Monday and is due to don the moleskins for the Wednesday scrimmage. George Sauer, who sustained minor bruises, was in suit Tuesday and working out with the squad.

The varsity roster received an addition Monday with the promotion of Dick Cockburn, Norfolk, from the nubbins group. Cockburn, a fullback, has been showing up well in the nubbins scrimmages and games. He is a former Norfolk Junior college athlete.

Sooners Not Heavy Team.

The Oklahoma team which Coach Lewie Hardage will start against Nebraska will tip the scales at about the same poundage as the Cornhuskers, according to weight figures announced Tuesday. The Sooner lineup:

Left guard—Bashara (170).
Center—Fleetwood (175).
Right guard—Whittington (180) and Stacy (200).
Right tackle—Gentry (190).
Right end—Coker (180).
Quarter—Robertson (160) or Bill Panze (155).
Left half—Long (175) or A. Panze (160).
Right half—Dunlap (190).
Fullback—Poynor (190).

STINER'S BOYS AGAIN ON SPOT

Lonnie's Oregon Aggies Take On Cougars In Next Game.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 24—(INS)—The orange-clad football warriors of Oregon State college, who shocked the football world by holding the Trojans of Southern California to a scoreless tie Saturday, today prepared for another gruelling battle.

Coach Lon Stiner, who played his football at Nebraska, has nailed storm signals to the mast, warning of a Crimson tornado expected out of the northeast here next Saturday when Washington State college plays Oregon State.

Oregon State's "iron-man" team, which accomplished the feat of playing the full 60 minutes against Southern California without a substitution, survived the battle without serious injury. Norman Franklin, fleet-footed halfback and potential all-American, nursed a twisted ankle, but will be out for practice today.

Huskies Take On Stanford.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 24—(INS)—The Washington Huskies still are trying to get their breath today after the "breather" they were supposed to have had last Saturday. They just barely turned in a 14-0 victory over the little College of Puget Sound. The reserves "blew" and the Husky regulars had to trot out on the field. With the Stanford game here Saturday, the Huskies are in for an intensive drill, with Coach Jimmy Phelan trying to put some drive into his team.

Wolbach High Rings Up Total 111 Points

WOLBACH, Neb., Oct. 23—Wolbach high rang the bell for the high score of several football seasons last week, when Coach Fred Werks' eleven rollicked over North Loup, 111-6. Peterson carried the ball for eight touchdowns, three being runs of 94, 90 and 70 yards. He made 561 yards, carrying the ball 22 times.

The North Loup touchdown was the result of a kickoff recovered in the Wolbach end zone.

Names Sauer as "Big Six" Best.

Ernie Mehl in Kansas City Star: Our nomination for the outstanding back of the Big Six conference: George Henry Sauer.

One had a chance to compare Sauer of Nebraska with "Rambling" Ralph Graham of Kansas State in this game and it is taking nothing away from Graham to cast the vote for his opponent.

Sauer can do about everything demanded of a high-class back. On defense he is virulent; the players he had to take out of play went out; one of them, we noticed, ending up rather dazed quite a ways from the scene of action.

On attack Sauer blasts the line with fine speed and power. Not always could he gain through the Wildcat wall but each time the ball was given him the line was jarred with the force by which he hit.

RAMS ON MARK FOR DIXIE TEAM

Fordham Hopes Get Place In Sun By Defeat of Alabama.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(INS)—Fordham's football team goes "national" this week. That is, the Rams, with their game against Alabama on Saturday and those with St. Mary's, N. Y. U. and Oregon State that follow, will make their bid for a place on the ranking list.

Thus far their play, while impressive and satisfying to those who sat in at the Polo Grounds and watched them perform, hasn't stirred more than local interest. The 32 to 6 triumph over Boston college was a top-rate performance yet the chances are that it doesn't mean much to football observers beyond the Alleghanies. Nor did the fine 20 to 0 victory over West Virginia win much credit.

Still, these games served a purpose by providing just the type and quality of competition the Maroons needed. Absorbing a new playing system this year, they've had to pick their way, and the West Virginia and Boston games allowed them to step up their playing pace gradually.

The week-to-week improvement was clearly marked, too, and Saturday's engagement should find them pretty close to peak form. Probably they'll need to be, too, for Earl Walsh, who has scouted the southerners, insists that the engagement will be the severest test of the campaign.

Awaits 'Bama Invasion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)—Jimmy Crowley, hoping for an undefeated season in his first year as coach at Fordham university, awaits the invasion of Alabama's Crimson Tide with not a little apprehension.

His scouts have brought reports from the south of a line averaging better than 200 pounds, a powerful, tricky backfield and adequate replacemennts. Outside of that, they say, Fordham has nothing whatever to worry about.

"The breaks will decide this game," Earl Walsh, an assistant coach and scout for the Rams, says. "Those 'Bama boys are good, just as good and just as big as we are. I look for a close score, with the winner requiring a break or two."

Some southern critics have labelled Alabama as the "perfect team." They declined to change their opinion even after the Tide had been held to a scoreless draw by Mississippi, and last week's Alabama conquest of Tennessee at Knoxville where the Volunteers hadn't been beaten since 1924 justified them. Developments of the past few weeks have indicated too that Mississippi is plenty tough this year in its own right and that Alabama need not alibi for that scoreless tie.

FISTS FLYING IN CARNIVAL AT 'Y'

Finals of Glove Tourney On the Schedule For Tuesday Night.

Eight fast bouts are on the schedule for the finals of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. boxing carnival at the "Y" tonight. The first bout is booked for 8 o'clock, setting in motion a program which should include some hard walloping and string of knockouts.

The Thursday preliminaries, which drew a good crowd, uncovered several excellent boxers, including Sammy Verse and Henry Medlock, a pair of hard-socking simon-pures from Omaha. Verse and Haldine Mollison, who are fighting in the 135-pound division, plan to challenge Henry Medlock, the mid-west A. A. U. champ, for a match tonight to be staged following the evening program. Medlock is boxing in the 145-pound class and the Verse-Mollison duo claim he stepped up a class to dodge them.

Touchdown Secrets

Wildcats Use Clever Reverse Play.

BY JOE GLASS.

Northwestern under Coach Dick Hanley uses a reverse play to the left which starts off like a wide sweep to the right and is a check on it.

The play begins with the left half (2, in motion toward the right. While in motion he calls out "Go" and this brings the pass from center to 3, who starts right, like 2. No. 4 also is in motion in the same direction.

No. 3 gives the ball to 1 in a reverse, and 1 runs just outside the defensive right tackle. The path has been cleared for him by 9, who blocks out the defensive right guard, 10 who cross-blocks on the defensive right tackle, and 8, who takes out the defensive right end. Right tackle (6) provides interference, and right end (5) and center, after temporary blocking against the defensive left tackle and right guard, respectively, may get out to obstruct the secondary defense in 1's behalf.

No 2 and No. 4 must fake wide to the right and make it look serious. Remember this play tomorrow.

MID-WEEK GAMES ON PREP ROSTER

Wednesday Will Find Hi Teams In Action On Many Fields.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Football fans of Nebraska will turn attention to the southwest Wednesday where Gothenburg and Curtis Aggies will meet in an all-important game on the Southwest Nebraska conference card. The mid-week schedule in Cornhusker prep circles is because of the district teachers' association conventions arranged for the week-end.

Gothenburg and Curtis will carry perfect records into the Wednesday skirmish, the Swedes having handled Farnam, Cozad, Cambridge, Holdrege and North Platte in an impressive fashion, while the Aggies have bowled over Farnam, Lexington and Maywood. A victory for Gothenburg, which will hold a slight edge, would practically assure the Wyant team of a southwest title. A win for Curtis would be the first hurdle for the Farmers, who then would be required to ride over North Platte and McCook to gain the crown.

The crack Columbus team, which has been defeating all comers, will entertain David City, which has only a defeat from Fullerton smeared on the books. Fairbury is at Crete for what promises to be an interesting Mid-State league encounter.

Cathedral at Havelock.

The only game in city circles is the Cathedral-Havelock contest in the Greater Lincoln league. Havelock, undefeated this season, is a heavy favorite in spite of the fact the Bluebirds sidetracked the Engineers last year.

Clay County honors will be at stake when Clay Center journeys to Sutton. Fairmont will test the strength of the fast Friend club which has yet to meet with reverse. In the Republican Valley, Alma is at Huntley and Arapahoe entertains Bertrand.

The main attraction in the northeast is Allen at Pender. Allen, just recovering from its first defeat in two years, is prepared to bid for a comeback against the undefeated Pender team.

At Fremont, Coach Clyde Knapp's Dodge county athletes will have a chance to clinch the Inter-State league banner by beating Omaha North. Wednesday games and the 1932 scores:

RACE PROMOTERS PAID ALL IN FULL

Harry Lavine and his associates took it on the chin for a cool $620 in the auto races staged at the Nebraska state fair grounds Sunday. Receipts were $380 and expenses reached $1,000.

The expenses included the $700 which was paid in full to the race drivers, in spite of the fact the meet was not a paying proposition.

J. BULL SENDS GIANT FIGHTER

Six Foot-Seven Britisher Comes In Quest of Ring Laurels.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(INS)—"There are no English heavyweights. The only two that can fight a lick—and [illegible] can't fight much—are over here."

This surprisingly frank admission came today from Jack Pittifer, the newest importation.

"It's like this," the six foot-seven inch, 230 pound Pittifer explained. "McCorkindale and I are the only ones who can fight at all and Mac is much better than I am. I've had only 30 fights and I won 27 by knockouts over there. Three knocked me out.

"I had to come over here because I couldn't find anyone to box me. I want to start slow and learn and, in time, I think I'll be pretty good. I don't want you Americans to think I'm one of those horizontal heavyweights like Phil Scott. Don't expect too much and maybe I'll surprise you some day."

The fight mob liked his honesty and they'll all be pulling for him when he starts, especially since they have a hunch that maybe he's a lot better than he pretends to be.

Schmeling Plans Comeback.

BERLIN, Oct. 24—(INS)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight who once held the world championship crown, will attempt to battle his way back to that pugilistic eminence, his manager, Joe Jacobs, announced today.

Jacobs said Schmeling will meet Tommy Loughran Jan. 15 in New York, "Kingfish" Levinsky in Chicago the following month, and possibly Max Baer at the end of February in San Francisco.

All these bouts would lead up to a battle with Primo Carnera, man mountain who now holds the championship, with whom Jacobs said he was negotiating for a bout in June in New York.

Challenge to Baer Hurled by Sailor

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24—(INS)—Johnny Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight champion, issued a challenge today to Max Baer for a Sharkey-Baer fight here in November or December.

"Baer says he wants to fight again this year and here's his chance," Buckley said. "We'll sign for the fight here or in Miami, Fla., or any other place Baer likes."

HARTINGTON, Neb., Oct. 24—Continuing the winning streak, Coach Chet Carkoski's Hartington high football eleven downed the Crofton gridsters at Crofton, 7-0. Gerald Suing scored the winning touchdown in the last 30 seconds of the first half. Bloomfield plays at Hartington Wednesday.

RETURNS PUNT FOR VICTORY.

NAPONEE, Neb., Oct. 24—O'Neil chased a punt back 20 yards on the last play of the game to give Naponee a 12-12 tie with Bladen. The game was filled with thrills, Bladen scoring first in the second quarter on a pass ruled complete because of interference. Naponee received the kick-off and went 70 yards in three plays to a touchdown, a 50-yard pass, Godekin to McCready, doing the scoring.

Bladen recovered a fumble in the third quarter for a touchdown and O'Neil's sprint evened the score just as the game ended. Earl Morey, quarter, and Jack Hall, tackle, looked good for Bladen. Elmer Ott, halfback, and Duncan, tackle, featured the Naponee play.

BENKELMAN KEEPS WINNING.

BENKELMAN, Neb., Oct. 24—Led by Ivan Adkinson the Benkelman High School Tigers kept up their winning streak by defeating Imperial in a Frenchman Valley league game, 14-7. The victory was the fourth for Coach E. D. Taylor's Benkelman team.

RUNS BACK PUNT TO WIN.

BERTRAND, Neb., Oct. 24—Schult's 60-yard off-tackle run in the second quarter and Tresidder's plunge in the fourth period gave Bertrand a 14-0 victory over Indianola last week. Schult and Tresidder stood out in the Bertrand backfield and Carlson and Swenson played well in the line. For Indianola, Stewart and Bry were outstanding, the former looking particularly well at guard. Bertrand plays at Arapahoe Wednesday.

TRENTON UPSETS GRANT.

TRENTON, Neb., Oct. 24—Trenton high kept up its winning streak last week by defeating Grant, 15-0. Grant failed to make an earned first down during the game, the work of Tackles Vastine and J. Felker, End. D. Felker being outstanding on defense while the ball carrying of Gibson and blocking of Mollison was outstanding.

PENDER RECORD CLEAN.

PENDER, Neb., Oct. 24—By defeating Homer, 26-9, Coach C. L. Schwartz's Pender high team kept its slate clean and advanced a step nearer the Logan Valley conference title. Due to injuries and scholastic difficulties, the Pender team was composed of much new material but the new boys performed like veterans. Pender has beaten Bancroft, 7-6; trimmed Wakefield, 6-0; defeating Winnebago, 6-0, in addition to the win over Homer. Remaining games:

Kind Words for Ball By Baseball Chief

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24—(AP)—Headed by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and William Harridge, president of the American league, baseball notables gathered here today for the funeral of Philip De Catesby Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns.

Services were set for 2 p. m., at the Ball home in suburban Ferguson, with burial in Bellefontaine cemetery in St. Louis.

"We battled for years over baseball matters, but I can only say the best things about Mr. Ball," said Landis upon his arrival here from Chicago. "He did not go about and tell other people what he thought about me. Instead, he singled me out and made no bones about informing me he thought I was out of order on some of the things I said and did.

"He was loyal to the national game and proved it by continually paying the bills. He lost a fortune in his baseball investment."

BLUEBIRDS MIX WITH HAVELOCK

Cathedral Dated Invade Shoptown to Tackle Engineers.

The only game of the week involving Greater Lincoln league members will be played Wednesday afternoon at Ballard Field when the Havelock Engineers, pacemakers with an undefeated slate, entertain Cathedral high in the third loop contest for both elevens. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Last year Havelock, with what appeared to be the best team on paper, ran into a snag and lost to Cathedral 6-0, in the opening game of the year. The score was reversed, however, when it was learned that Bourke, Cathedral quarterback, was over the age limit and Havelock went on to win the league title.

Thus far this year Havelock has defeated Schuyler, Bethany, College View and Ashland, while Cathedral has tied and lost to the Lincoln Reserves and lost to College View. The Shoptowners are a heavy favorite, but Bud McBride's youngsters might spring a surprise if the line can bottle up Dormer and Lebsack, Havelock's aces.

COLDS
Go Overnight
When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than this is taking chances with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist. 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.—Adv.

NRA Is Upheld by Southern Judge

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 24—(AP)—Ralph Starring, mill worker, has lost a suit in which he sought to test the validity of NRA.

He contended he lost his job in the Southern silk mills, Spring City, through adoption of the underwear code. Federal Judge George Taylor, without passing on the validity of the recovery act, ruled yesterday that neither it nor the code "necessarily required the mills to discharge the complainant."

Late Stock Market Rally Turns Many Early Losses Into Gains Of 1 To 4 Or More Points

Share Market Closes Strong

Exchange Upswing is Led By Buoyant Mining and Metal Issues.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 —(AP)— Led by the buoyant mining and metal issues, stocks staged a last hour rally today and transformed many general losses of 1 to around 2 points into gains of 1 or more. While wheat turned heavy, foreign currencies soared in terms of the dollar. Trading in equities gained momentum near the end of the session and the close was strong. Transfers approximated 2,000,000 shares.

Muddled financial markets ran around in circles today as conflicting interpretations of the administration's new gold policy left most traders and investors in a highly indecisive frame of mind.

Neither the inflationists nor anti-inflationists were too sure of their arguments and leading stocks, after an initial upward flurry settled down to a dull routine, the exception, of course, was the metal group which continued its advance of yesterday under the assumption that the price of gold will be raised substantially. The list backed and filled hesitantly with the turnover considerably under that of the previous session. European currencies again moved up sharply against the dollar, and grains and cotton dipped and rallied intermittently. Bonds were irregular.

Shares of Homestake Mining jumped 12 points, and gains of 3 to 5 were recorded by U. S. Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine, Dome, American Smelting and Alaska Juneau. Case and Goodyear got up about 2 each, and smaller advances were shown by U. S. Steel, New York Central, Western Union, Continental Can, Deere, Sears Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey. American Telephone was heavy, losing nearly 2 points. National Distillers sagged a point or more and a number of others were down fractionally.

Announcement from Washington that the government's first gold purchase will be made tomorrow morning was received with interest. The price, which will be fixed before the opening of the markets, is expected to be above the London-Paris rate. The treasury will discontinue setting a price for newly mined gold for export. Today's rate was $29.80 against $29.50 yesterday.

Aside from wide conjectures regarding the possible effects of the new gold control program, Wall street had a watchful eye on the French political situation.

Bankers, while inclined to view the gold problem abroad as rather precarious, were generally of the opinion that France would hang on as long as possible.

In the meantime, railway earnings reports for September were being scrutinized closely. While the Erie had net operating income for the month of $1,489,660 against $951,231 in the same month a year ago, the net of the Frisco system dropped from $542,727 in 1932 to $407,050. The Lehigh Valley, however, advanced its September net from $244,435 last year to $691,325.

Foreign exchanges continued their advance against dollars as the administration pushed its plan for control of the gold price. French francs, notwithstanding the fall of the Dalladier cabinet, had an early rise of 08 cent to 5 67 cents and sterling advanced 5½ cents to $4 67.

The weekly condition statement of reporting federal reserve member banks in 90 dealing cities gave evidence of some commercial credit expansion. "All other" loans, which include borrowings by industrial and agricultural customers, had a net gain of $37,000,000; the increase in the New York district alone was $42,000,000. NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

Speculative interest waned on the curb market today. Except for flurries of strength in metal shares, prices tended to fall back under moderate offerings, some of which represented profit taking from Monday's rally.

Lake Shore Mines, Newmont and Pioneer Gold continued to find favor among buyers, though those issues did not fully maintain early gains. New Jersey Zinc rallied more than 2 points on its first appearance of the day; extreme advances of other metal equities were somewhat more moderate.

Stocks rather easily affected by selling included Singer Manufacturing, National Distillers (new), National Bond & Share, Swift & Co and a few less active specialties. Gulf Oil after a good opening gain, turned reactionary.

Firmness was shown at intervals by American Gas & Electric, Niagara Hudson, Distillers-Seagrams and Pan-American Airways, among others, but traders seemed reluctant to try for a further advance. Volume was substantially under Monday's.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 —(AP)— Although President Roosevelt's speech was regarded as bullish, the grain markets as a whole were a disappointment to the trade yesterday. Traders reported the response of the public was not as enthusiastic as they had anticipated, and that speculative activity lagged.

Some attention was centered on the president's failure to announce a plan to make loans to farmers on wheat and corn, similar to the loans to cotton farmers, but this failure was not regarded as any indication that the idea had been dropped.

Effort on the part of the trade to have the government act to raise the import duty on rye from Canadian, Argentine and Danub[illegible] ports brought the announcement from Washington that a hearing will be held November 21 on the difference in the cost of rye production in this country and abroad. The trade believes, however, that 837,000 bushels of Danubian rye which was shipped to the United States in the past two weeks will have arrived before action can be taken.

Wheat Gains Are Wiped Out

Close Is Unsettled, 1 to 1⅝c Lower; Corn ⅛ to ¾c Down.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 24—(AP)— Wheat rose late today to a new high point for the current movement of prices, but later profit-taking more than wiped out gains.

There was no evidence of government buying of wheat today. On the other hand, considerable speculative purchasing of grain was based on expected stimulus from the government price of gold tomorrow. Bullish crop estimates from Canada were also a factor, as were prospects of stoppage of United States imports of rye.

Wheat cloed unsettled 1@1⅛ under yesterday's finish, Dec. 84⅞@85; May 87¾@88; corn ⅛@¾ down, Dec. 45⅜@½, May 51½@⅝; oats ⅜ off to ¼c up, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 37 cents.

Grain values underwent material setbacks early today, influenced by relative weakness of Liverpool wheat quotations uncertainty regarding prices the United States would pay for gold. Liverpool dispatches said political complications in France were a disturbing factor. Opening unchanged to 1 cent lower, wheat afterward declined all around. Corn started ½ cent off to ⅛ cent up, and subsequently showed a general sag.

Downturns of wheat prices amounted soon to about 2 cents. Announcement, however, that the first purchases of gold by the United States government would be made tomorrow acted as strengthening influence, and so too did the fact that primary receipts of wheat today were the smallest this season. The total arrivals were only 396,000 bushels, compared with 665,000 a week ago and 1,841,000 at this time last year.

An evident handicap to friends of higher prices for wheat was comparative dearth of outside buying. Some trade authorities attributed this to hesitance due to the French cabinet crisis and to possibilities that France would go off the gold standard, apparently leaned to take view that buying on declines was in order, and about mid-session the buying from this source had rallied the market to about equal with yesterday's finish. Corn and oats swayed with wheat.

Provisions advanced as a result of lack of offerings.

At midsession wheat was unchanged to ⅝c under yesterday's finish and corn unchanged to ½c off.

CORN receipts at Chicago today were 141 cars, a week ago 144, a year ago 168.

Corn was unsettled, with an early break and a recovery, but the late easiness in wheat led to selling and another decline. Country offerings of corn to arrive were of fair volume.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)— The bond market followed no definite course today. Prices shifted irregularly and mostly within narrow limits, with trading rather light in all but a few categories.

In a general way the market continued to reflect uncertainty regarding eventualities from the administration's new course in the realm of currency affairs.

U. S. government issues showed a majority of small declines, but high grade ratings in the corporation division were firm and generally at slightly higher levels.

Secondary issues with few exceptions lacked a sufficient buying impulse to extend their advance of yesterday. Low priced rails were highly irregular with some indications of traders' profit taking in those which moved up sharply since the close of last week.

Utilities and the general run of industrial loans showed a like unevenness of trend. Price changes were small and about evenly divided between gains and losses.

Conditions in the foreign sector were a bit more favorable to sellers as a result of marked firmness in the group's leaders. French government 7½s did almost as well. Germans had a generally good tone as did Japanese and several South American issues.

Gold Price.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Today's treasury newly mined gold price was set at $29.80 an ounce, 21 cents higher than yesterday's price.

Under the practice the treasury has been following for some time back, this price is based on the world price and has nothing to do with the Roosevelt governmental purchase plan, under which first purchases will be made tomorrow at a level above the world price.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)— SUGAR—Futures again rallied today on renewed covering and trade support influenced by the firmer London markwet, but after showing net gains of 5 to 6 points offerings increased and partial reactions followed. December contracts touched 1.26 then reacted to 1.23, while March sold off from 1.30 to 1.27. The late market showed net gains of 3 points on all positions.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)— COTTON—Trading in cotton was less active today with an early advance of some 15 to 18 points followed by irregular fluctuations. Southern selling was less in evidence than yesterday but showed a tendency to increase on the bulges, while trade or commission house buying made its appearance on the setbacks, and general business was evidently restricted by a disposition to await further developments. After selling up to 9 46, December reacted to 9 35, but steadied up again during the afternoon on the firmness of sterling. At 2 o'clock, December was holding around 9.40, with active months showing net advances of 10 to 14 points.

Many Respond to Roosevelt Offer Aid Home Owners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—A big response to President Roosevelt's invitation today pushed well beyond the half million mark applications of home owners for federal aid to prevent foreclosure.

By telegram and letter, the requests pyramided after Mr. Roosevelt's public request that any family about to lose its home telegraph the Home Owners Loan corporation for help.

William F. Stevenson, chairman of the federal home loan bank board and head of the loan corporation, seconded the president's request. He said:

"I desire to unite in the request to all home mortgagees when the mortgagor has filed an application with said corporation to refrain from foreclosure until the corporation can reach the application for attention."

"Over 500,000 applications amounting to one and a half billion dollars have been filed and the board is making every effort to handle them expeditiously. But necessarily it will take time. x x x x Our financing the loans depends on the acceptance of the bonds by the mortgagee.

"We are using every effort and all force necessary to speed the work—give the home owner a chance — stay the hand of foreclosure."

DESIRE COUNTY IN HEALTH UNIT

City Commissioners Still Working For Joint Board.

One more effort will be made by the city council to get the county commissioners to join the city in setting up a city-county health unit, it was decided at an informal conference of the councilmen Tuesday. "There is too much at stake to abandon the proposal without one more effort," Mayor Fleming said. "The belief that if Dr. R. E. Sawyer, county physician, is not appointed superintendent of the combined unit, he will be dismissed is entirely without foundation since neither the city nor the advisory health council will have anything to do with the employment of a county officer."

"We cannot wait much longer," the mayor ceclared. "Our reorganization of the health department must be completed as soon as possible. However, if there is a chance in the world that the county might work with us we want to give it that opportunity."

Dr. Sawyer is one of those whom A. C. Harm, in charge of the city's safety department of which the health unit is a part, has recommended to the advisory council for appointment as superintendent. When he made the recommendation he said that he will not consider any but Lincoln applicants. Other members of the city council expressed similar views today, Commissioner Harm going so far as to say that he will favor the appointment of any Lincoln doctor to the position.

There is little possibility of the council approving the appointment of any doctor if the advisory council recommends that he be paid $3,500 per year, it was brought out at the conference. Dr. C. C. Applewhite, who made a survey of public health conditions here told the commissioners that a "good man can be had for $2,800 a year, for full time employment." There is a possibility that if the right man is nominated, the city council might approve a salary of $3,000.

Gasoline Price Rise Said Impossible Due To High Tax Burden

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(AP)—A rise in the price of gasoline in accordance with the aims and purposes of the national recovery act is impossible, Baird H. Markham of New York, told the American Petroleum institute today, because of the tax burden which he said had risen from a million dollars a year in 1914 to more than 500 millions annually. A million dollars, a year in 1914 to more than 500 millions annually.

"Our best customer, the motorist" he said "currently is paying about 20 per cent of all tax revenues collected by the federal government, and is the largest single source of revenue for most states."

The industry itself, said Markham in his director's report, with 116 taxes, paid more than 17 per cent of all revenue, exclusive of that from the income tax, collected in the last federal year by the bureau of internal revenue.

DESPERADOES GET $74,000 LOOT IN AN INDIANA BANK RAID

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 24 — (AP)—A gang headed by John Dillinger, Indiana and Ohio desperado, and including several convicts who shot their way out of Indiana state prison September 26, was hunted today by police who believed its members robbed the Central National Bank & Trust Co. here yesterday.

Four gunmen obtained cash and bonds said by Kenneth West, cashier, to total $74,782.09. At least $16,000 was in currency.

Claude Dozier of the state bureau of criminal identification said witnesses partially identified the bandits as Dillinger, recently liberated from the Lima, O., jail by three men who killed Sheriff Jess Sarber; Harry Pierpont and Walter Dietrich, both fugitive convicts, and Harry Copeland, released DI[illegible] associate on parole from the prison.

West Nine Holes At Pioneers To Be Open In Next Few Days

L. C. Oberlies, head of the park department, said Tuesday that the west nine holes of the Pioneers golf course will be opened to play, "possibly within the next few days." The greens still need a little rolling, he said, and the course will be opened as soon as this is done.

Mr. Oberlies is planning to start the construction of nine more grass greens in the spring. Whether they are to be the middle or east course, has not been determined.

In preparation for the proposed new greens, 80,000 square feet of ground has been seeded to bent grass which it is hoped will be ready for use early in the summer. There also should be enough to fill in places on the present greens that may be frozen out during the coming winter.

If the new greens are made, the money with which to do the work will have to come from the earnings of the course next summer. There is none in the fund now.

Mr. Oberlies has had requests for a professional football ground. He is not considering the plea very seriously, he said, and will not until there is a real demand.

The prohibition against withdrawals of stored oil was continued, but the secretary moved to relieve the smaller independent refiners and producers from any hardship which it might impose.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 24—(AP)—Violence in the farm belt, believes Louis J. Taber, national head of the Grange would hinder improvement.

GERMAN CHRONIC DRUNKARDS WILL BE STERILIZED

BERLIN, Oct 24—(AP)—A threat of sterilization was faced by chronic drunkards in Germany today.

The threat was embodied in a new law, effective the first of the year, which provides for "prevention of hereditary incurables."

The act will be compulsory, said the Essener National Zeitung, only in cases of complete irresponsibility. Others, however, may apply for sterilization.

It is applicable to hereditary cases of feeble-mindedness, schizophrene, (split personality) insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, blindness, deafness and dumbness and serious physical deformities.

Prof. Fritz Lenz of Munich discussed the law before a meeting marking the fiftieth anniversary of the German anti-alcohol society last night.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Cervantes, who gained world wide fame with his strange story of Don Quixote, once looked upon the army as his career. In 1574, when he was 27 years old, he was in the garrison at Palermo hopeful of attaining a captaincy. The following year he set sail for Spain to press his claims for advancement, but his vessel was captured by Algerine pirates and all on board were kidnaped and carried into Algiers as prisoners, later to become slaves.

Certain papers in Cervantes' pockets led his captors to believe him to be an important man, capable of supplying ransom. Thus he was kept in slavery, but spared the frightful punishments common to them, until his family was able to buy him back from the kidnapers.

Cervantes, upon his return to Spain, wrote his Galatea, a work that gained for him his first fame as a writer. Strange as it seems, Galatea was never finished. Don Quixote is Cervantes' best known work to the world in general, but his material reward for its writing was practically nothing.

To every word of that great address I say, "Amen." Would to God every man and woman who believes in justice to their fellow men and women would read that and then read the immortal address of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg; especially the words, "That these dead shall not have died in vain."

Millions of honest men and women in vision could foresee the curse of the gold standard and that it meant financial slavery, misery and distress. Have all their pleas been made in vain? May a just God forbid. DAN McCURDY.

The Wailings of a Dying Idol

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: One of Solomon's proverbs says: "When the righteous are in authority the people rejoice, but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn." According to the sarcastic and acrimonious breeze eminating from the well paid defenders of a lost cause that is nearing preparation of burial, this cause is the most important loss to a disheartened and distracted people, made so, largely through the deceptive tactics and perfidy of these defenders and greatly to the moral injury of the church.

We refer to the coterie namely: P. Scott McBride, Clarence Wilson, William "Pussyfoot" Johnson, F. A. High, R. P. Hutton, et cetera. Shall the righteous or the unrighteous trying to hide their own maliciousness under the cloak of religion, rule?

If left to the people there is no question as to who shall rule. President Roosevelt needs no defense for the efforts he is taking to relieve the dis- sed people brought about so greatly by the guile and deception of ose attacking him. But can the church survive the vituperative onslaughts of such language used by those claiming to be spiritual messengers of the Lord?

Mr. Wilson, at Vermillion, S. D., Oct. 17, may get some consolation that "not more than a third of the dry vote in many of the 33 states so far voted were registered." Dr. S. Parkes Cadman says, "the protestant church has 21 million members." What is there consoling in the fact that last fall's election more than 38 million votes were registered but the prohibition candidate for president received less than 80,000? It certainly is hard for those of an oligarchic dictatorship form or desire of government living in a republic to submit to a democratic form of government.

The lesson of the downfall of the church in affairs of government in the several foreign nations of late, does not seem to deter the activities of those having had a prestige in state affairs of this nation for several years past.
